Second, if any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article. Third, if any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted. Fourth, if it be mixed, colored, powdered, coated, or stained in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed. Fifth, if it contains sodium sulphite or any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient which may render such article injurious to health: Provided, that when in the preparation of food products for shipment they are preserved by an external application applied in such manner that the preservative is necessarily removed mechanically or by maceration in water, or otherwise, and directions for the removal of said preservatives shall be printed on the covering or [of] the package, the provisions of this act shall be construed as applying only when said products are ready for consumption. For the purposes of this act an article shall also be deemed to be misbranded: In the case of drugs: First, if it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article. Second, if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed, in whole or in part, and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if the package fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any alcohol, morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate or acetanilide or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein. Second, in the case of articles labeled, branded or tagged so as plainly to indicate that they are compounds, imitations, or blends, and the word "compound," "imitation," or "blend," as the case may be, is plainly stated on the package in which it is offered for sale: Provided, that the term "blend" as used herein shall be construed to mean a mixture or [of] like substances, not excluding harmless coloring and flavoring ingredients used for the purpose of coloring and flavoring only: And provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring or compelling proprietors or manufacturers of proprietary foods which contain no unwholesome added ingredients to disclose their trade-mark formulas, except in so far as the provisions of this act may require to secure freedom from adulteration or misbranding. (Rem. Supp. 1923, § 2842, as amended L. 1927, c. 311.)

207. Right of Inspection.—The Commissioner of Agriculture, the assistant commissioner and all horticultural inspectors are authorized and empowered to at any time enter upon any premises where any nursery, orchard, vineyard, berry farm or vegetable farm is situate or whereon any nursery stock, fruit trees, shade trees, ornamental trees or shrubbery or horticultural plants are growing, or upon any premises or into any building, packing house, dry-house, warehouse, storeroom, depot, dock, car, vessel, or other place wherein any nursery stock, fruits, vegetables, or horticultural products are situate, being prepared or packed for shipment, stored, shipped, held for shipment or for delivery upon any shipment or sale, or offered for sale for the purpose of examining and inspecting such premises or property to ascertain whether the same or any thereof are infected, and it shall be unlawful for any person to hinder or prevent or to attempt to hinder or prevent any such officer from entering such premises or inspecting such premises or property or performing any duty required by this act. (Rem. C. S. 1922, § 2847.)

208. Infected Premises—Notice—Shipments—Manufacture.—In case the officer making the inspection provided for in the preceding section shall find that the premises or property inspected is infected, he shall condemn the same and serve upon the owner or upon the person having possession or charge of said premises or of said property a notice in writing that the same is condemned and ordering the disinfection of any and all thereof which is capable of disinfection and the destruction of such property as is incapable of disinfection, which notice shall describe the premises or property ordered to be disinfected or destroyed with reasonable certainty and shall specify the time within which the same shall be so disinfected or destroyed; and shall give notice that unless the premises or property ordered disinfected or destroyed is disinfected or destroyed as directed, in the manner and within the time specified in said notice, the same will be done by the officer giving the notice and the expense thereof charged against the premises and the owner of said premises or property. In case said premises or property is in the possession or charge of any person upon whom service can be made, the officer making the inspection shall serve a copy of such notice upon such person and, in case the premises or property is in possession or charge of any other person than the owner thereof, or service cannot be had upon any person in possession or charge thereof, the officer shall serve said notice upon the owner of said premises or property by mailing or telegraphing him a copy thereof, if his home or post office address are known to the officer or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained. In case personal service of said notice cannot be had upon any person in possession or charge of said premises or property and the name and address of the owner of such premises or property are not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, said notice shall be served by posting the same in a conspicuous place upon the premises where the property to be disinfected or destroyed is situated, as the case may be. In case the name and post office address of the owner are not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained and in the absence of fraud and gross neglect, service of such notice upon the person in possession or charge of said premises or property shall be construed to be substituted personal service upon the owner, and, in case service of such notice upon a person in possession or charge of such premises or property cannot be had and the name and post office address of the owner is not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained and in the absence of fraud and gross neglect, such posting of the notice upon the premises shall be construed to be constructive personal service upon the owner of such premises or property. Upon the giving of such notice as hereinabove provided it shall become and be the duty of the owner and person having possession or charge of the premises or property described in the notice to, within the time specified in said notice, disinfect said premises or disinfect or destroy said property, as the case may be: Provided, that in the case of nursery stock, fruit or vegetables about to be shipped or any shipment thereof, or which is offered for sale, or held for the purpose of delivery upon any shipment or sale thereof, if the officer making the inspection shall find that only a part thereof is so affected that it cannot be successfully disinfected, he shall state in such notice that the owner or person in charge thereof has the privilege of separating the same into two or more of the following classes, to wit: such as does not need disinfection, such as can be successfully disinfected, and such as cannot be successfully disinfected, and in such cases it shall be the duty of the owner and person in charge of such property to within the time specified in said notice, disinfect such nursery stock, fruit or vegetables as can be successfully disinfected and destroy such as cannot be successfully disinfected: And provided, further, that in the case of fruit or vegetables that cannot be successfully disinfected the inspector may grant the owner or person in charge thereof the privilege of manufacturing the same into by-products or of shipping the same to a by-product factory located within the State of Washington and issue a permit in writing so to do, and in such case it shall be unlawful for the person receiving such permit to sell or dispose of such infected fruit without having first manufactured the same into a by-product or shipped the same to a by-product factory, or to divert any such shipment when made, and it shall be unlawful for the consignee of any fruit or vegetable shipped to a by-product factory, to sell or dispose of the same without first manufacturing it into a by-product. It shall be unlawful for any person to ship, deliver, sell, barter, give away or otherwise dispose of or part with the possession of, or for any common carrier to transport, any nursery stock, fruit or vegetable which has been found infected and condemned until all of the requirements of said notice and order have been complied with, and permission given in writing so to do by an inspector. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier to ship or transport or receive for shipment any fruit in bulk or as culls unless the same shall be accompanied by a permit to ship to a by-product factory or by an inspector's written statement that same is free from infection. (Id. § 2848, as amended L. 1925, c. 108.)

209. Disinfection or Destruction.—In case the owner or person in charge of any premises or property required to be disinfected or destroyed as in the previous section provided, shall fail or neglect to comply with the notice within the time specified therein, the officer giving the notice shall have the right and it shall be his duty to enter upon the premises to be disinfected or where the personal property required to be disinfected or destroyed is situated and perform the acts required in such notice, or cause the same to be performed at the cost and expense of the owner of such premises or property as the case may be. The officer shall keep an accurate account of such cost and expense and the same shall be a lien upon the premises or personal property so disinfected, which lien may be enforced by the methods hereinafter provided. The liens in this section provided for shall in the case of personal property have precedence over all other liens: Provided, that where infected property has not been sprayed for two years, or which has been sprayed by the county or city for two years for which they have not collected the costs, such property may be declared a public nuisance as provided by law and treated as such. (Rem. C. S. 1922, § 2849, as amended L. 1927, c. 311.)

210. Importation of Infected Fruit.—It shall be unlawful for any person to import into this State, sell, barter, or otherwise dispose of or offer for sale or have in his possession for the purpose of sale or barter any fruit which is or has been infected with peach mildew, peach-twig borer, San Jose scale or other insect pests or the larvæ of the codling moth or peach-twig borer, and the fact that any fruit bears the mark of any such scale insect or is worm eaten by any such larvæ, shall be conclusive evidence that the fruit is infected, within the meaning of this section: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the grower of such infected fruit grown within the State of Washington from manufacturing the same into a by-product or selling and shipping the same to a by-product factory. (Rem. C. S. 1922, § 2853.)

211. Fruit Boxes, How Marked.—It shall be unlawful for any person growing or packing and selling, offering for sale or shipping in closed boxes or packages, any fruit or vegetables grown in this State, or offered or exposed for sale in the State of Washington, to sell, offer for sale or ship said fruit or vegetables in closed boxes or packages without plainly marking the same on the outside of the box or package with the name of the variety contained therein or with the words "variety unknown," the name of the place or locality where grown and the name of the grower, or in case of sale or shipment through an association or organization of growers the name of such association or organization and the lot number of the grower, and in case of apples, pears, peaches, cantaloupes or grapes, the net weight or the number contained in the package, and the grade of apples, pears, cantaloupes or grapes, and it shall be unlawful for any person to make or place upon such package the name of any other place or locality than the place where such fruit was grown, except the place to which shipped, or to falsely mark any such package as to variety, name of grower, association or organization or place where grown, or to obliterate or change the original marks on any such package or to re-mark the same with the name of any other grower or of any other place than that by or in which the contents were grown, or in case such package is marked with the name of an association or organization of growers to re-mark the same with the name of any other association or organization, and it shall be unlawful for any person having in his possession for sale or offering for sale or selling any fruit grown in this State and shipped in closed package, to repack the same in the boxes or packages of any other grower or shipper or from any other place or to sell or offer for sale in closed packages, or to pack in or offer for sale in marked box or package any fruit other than that originally contained or shipped therein.

In addition to the marks required to be placed upon any closed box or package of fruit, vegetable or nursery stock grown in this State, as hereinabove provided, the grower thereof or association or organization of growers packing the same shall mark upon the outside of such package the grade of the fruit, vegetable or nursery stock contained therein, specifying the grades and markings according to the obligatory grading rules and regulations, issued, published, and adopted by the Director of Agriculture, or a special or private grade or brand duly registered and approved by the Director of Agriculture as provided by law, and it shall be unlawful for any person to re-mark any such closed package to a higher or superior grade than that originally marked by the grower thereof or association or organization packing the same, or for any person other than the grower or association or organization packing such fruit grown in this State to place upon any such closed package not marked with the grade of the contents thereof any mark or brand indicating the grade of such contents: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to canned or dried fruit. (Rem. Supp. 1923, § 2854, as amended L. 1927, c. 311.)

212. Grades and Marks; Condemnation; Unlawful Sales; Regulations; Charges; Hearings.—It shall be unlawful for any grower thereof or association or organization of growers packing apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock, to mark the package with the grade of the contents, or for any person to ship, sell, barter, or otherwise dispose of or offer for sale, or have in his possession for the purpose of sale, any package of apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock, grown and packed within the State of Washington unless such contents shall comply with the general obligatory rules and regulations made, adopted and published from time to time by the Director of Agriculture, which general obligatory rules and regulations shall define and establish the standard for the grades.

In case an inspector making an inspection finds that apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock do not meet the standards as established by the obligatory rules and regulations, he shall condemn and serve notice upon such owner or person having possession of such apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock and the owner or person having possession of apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock shall not sell or dispose of the condemned apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock without written permission from the inspector so to do. It will be prima facie evidence that the owner or person who has possession of such apples, or other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock has violated the provisions of this act unless he show the fruit, vegetables or nursery stock in possession or a release in writing signed by an inspector that he has complied with the provisions of the condemnation.

It shall be unlawful (1) to mark or place upon any package of fruit, vegetables or nursery stock the name of any other place or locality than the place where the same were grown, except the place to which shipped; or to falsely mark any such package as to variety, name of grower, or place where grown, or to represent for purposes of sale that said fruit, vegetables or nursery stock were grown in any locality other than that in which they were actually grown, or by any other person than the person by which they were actually grown; (2) to mark, brand, advertise, offer for sale, or sell, any fruit, vegetables or nursery stock as graded according to, or by the name of any of the grades promulgated by the Director of Agriculture, unless they conform to such grades; (3) to mark, brand, advertise, offer for sale or sell any fruit, vegetables or nursery stock by the name of any grade that imitates or approaches the name of any of the grades promulgated by the Director of Agriculture; or (4) to have in his possession any packages or fruit, vegetables or nursery stock thus misbranded.

But it shall not be unlawful to sell vegetables, fruit or nursery stock as ungraded, or as graded according to other standards than those adopted by the Director of Agriculture: Provided, the name of such other grades or standards does not closely resemble or imitate the name of any of the official grades unless obligatory grades, rules and regulations have been adopted as in this section provided.

The general obligatory rules and regulations shall be based on the official hearing held as in this section provided, and thereafter the Director of Agriculture is authorized and directed to hold a public hearing in the principal districts affected, to consider proposed changes in these obligatory rules and regulations for any kind of fruit, vegetables or nursery stock only when a petition is submitted to him signed by resident freeholders of the State who are owners of twenty-five per cent or more of the total commercial acreage based on the census of the State Department of Agriculture for the kind of fruit, vegetables or nursery stock for which changes in the rules and regulations are suggested the Director of Agriculture may call a public hearing upon a reasonable showing of such a necessity by the industry requesting such hearing to consider desired changes in said rule and regulations and make, adopt, issue and publish general obligatory rules and regulations governing the packing of apples, other fruit, vegetables or nursery stock and establishing and defining the grades thereof, and in adopting the same the director is authorized to consult and advise with fruit, vegetables or nursery growers, the officers of associations or organizations of apple, other fruit, vegetable or nursery growers or distributors or dealers in apples, other fruits, vegetables or nursery stock. For the conducting of such hearing the Director of Agriculture may prescribe all necessary reasonable rules, but said rules must be such as to insure a fair, full and impartial opportunity for all interested districts to be heard. In establishing the grading obligatory rules herein mentioned the Director of Agriculture shall base them on the necessities and properties shown in said hearing, taking into consideration the tonnage of commercial fruit, vegetables or nursery stock in each district of the State affected by the grading obligatory rules to be established; said rules and regulations so established to become obligatory rules and regulations and be given the same force and effect as though enacted by the legislature of the State of Washington, said obligatory rules and regulations to become effective upon being adopted and promulgated by the Director of Agriculture. (Id. § 2855.)

213. Complaints Against Licensees—Notice—Hearings—Appeals.—Upon complaint in writing, verified under oath by the complainant, being made to the Commissioner of Agriculture, that the holder of any license in this act provided for has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of this act or the laws of the State of Washington relating to horticulture, the commissioner, if in his judgment the complaint justifies a hearing thereon, shall serve upon the holder of such license by registered mail, a copy of such complaint and a notice of the time and place of hearing the same, which hearing shall not be less than ten nor more than thirty days from the date of mailing said notice, and shall be at such place to be determined by the commissioner, as shall be most convenient to all the parties to the hearing: Provided, in case the nursery and principal place of business is within this State then hearing shall take place in the county where the nursery or principal place of business is located for the attendance of witnesses.

The complainant and the person complained of shall have compulsory process to compel the attendance of witnesses at such hearing, to be issued by the commissioner. Hearings may be held by the commissioner in person or by the assistant who shall report in writing a synopsis of the testimony taken and his findings thereon to the commissioner for his decision. If upon such hearing or report it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the person complained of has violated or is violating or failing to comply with the provisions of this act or the laws of the State of Washington relating to horticulture, he may revoke the license of such person, and no new license shall issue to such person until it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the cause of the complaint has been removed.

From the decision of the commissioner revoking a license, or refusing to issue a new license, an appeal shall lie to the Superior Court of the county whereby the hearing shall have been held. (Rem. C. S. 1922, § 2860.)

(Id. § 2867.)

215. Penalty—Disposition of Fines.—Every person violating or failing to comply with the provisions of this act or any obligatory rule or regulation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than $50, nor more than $500. All fines imposed under the provisions of this act shall, when collected, be paid to the treasurer of the county where imposed to be placed in the current expense fund of such county and to be used to assist in defraying the expenses of horticultural inspection. (Id. § 2868.)

(Id. § 2870.)

218. Duty of Common Carriers to Assist Commissioner.—It shall be the duty of all clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employees, or employees of common carriers to render to the Commissioner of Agriculture and his inspectors all the assistance in their power in tracing, finding, or discovering the presence of any article named in this act. Any refusal or neglect on the part of such clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employees, or employees of common carriers to render such friendly aid to assist in the carrying out of the provisions of this act shall constitute a misdemeanor. (Id. § 2871.)

For wheat weighing in excess of fifty-nine pounds to the measured bushel and grades number two or better, there shall be paid a premium over the price at country point for said grade at a rate of not less than eight-tenths of one per cent for each pound test weight over the minimum of said grade when test weight is the determining factor and in case of delivery on contract of grain of lower grade on account of test weight per bushel the discount or differential shall be at a rate not to exceed eight-tenths of one per cent of the price for said grade at country point for each pound test below the minimum test weight for the grade on which the contract is based unless the test weight be below fifty-five and at a rate not to exceed one and six-tenths per cent of the price at country point for each pound test below fifty-five down to and including wheat having a test weight of fifty-one pounds per measured bushel. The discount on mixed wheat may not exceed two per cent below the purchase price paid at country point for the same grade of the class of wheat which predominates in the mixture. "Practically free" means that the appearance or the keeping quality of the fruit shall not be injured to any extent readily apparent in the process of grading or sorting. "Materially deformed" means sufficiently deformed to cause a loss of twenty-five per cent or more by volume in paring. "Colored" means the color characteristic of the variety when mature. "Mature" means having reached the stage of maturity which will insure proper completion of the ripening process. "Minimum size" means the transverse diameter of the smallest fruit at right angles to a line running from the stem to the blossom end. Minimum size shall be stated in terms of whole or quarter inches, as two inches, two and one-quarter inches, two and one-half inches, and so on, in accordance with the facts. The word "minimum" may be abbreviated thus: "min."

(k) The marks and brands required by this act may be accompanied by any additional marks or brands desired; provided such marks or brands are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act. Apples packed and branded in accordance with the provisions of the act of Congress approved August third, nineteen hundred and twelve, or any subsequent act of Congress, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

Every closed package containing apples grown and packed in the State of West Virginia, which is sold, offered or exposed for sale by any person, shall bear upon the outside of one end in plain letters and figures the name and address of the person by whose authority the apples were packed and the package marked with the true name of the variety, the grade or class of the apples therein contained, and the minimum size of the fruit in the package.

If the true name of the variety be not known to the packer, or to the person under whose authority the packing is done, then such variety shall be marked "unknown." Every package of apples which is repacked shall bear the name and address of the person under whose authority such repacking is done, such name and address to be preceded by the words "repacked by."

(l) It shall be unlawful for any person within this State to sell, offer, or expose for sale, apples which are misbranded or adulterated within the meaning of this act.

For the purpose of this act apples shall be deemed to be misbranded: First, if the package shall fail to bear the statements required by this act. Second, if the package shall be falsely branded or shall bear any statement, design or device regarding such apples which is false or misleading, or if the package bears a statement, design or device indicating that the apples therein contained are a given grade, and said apples when packed or repacked do not conform to said grade.

For the purposes of this act, apples shall be deemed to be adulterated if their quality or grade when packed or repacked does not conform to the marks upon the package.

Any person who misbrands or adulterates apples within the meaning of this act, or who violates any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than fifty dollars for the first offense, and not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred for each subsequent violation.

No person shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this act when such person can establish satisfactory evidence to the effect that he was not a party to the packing and grading of such apples illegally packed or misbranded, and that he had no knowledge that same were illegally packed or misbranded or when he can establish a guaranty, signed by the person from whom he received such apples, to the effect that same are not misbranded or adulterated within the meaning of this act. Such guaranty, or satisfactory evidence to afford protection, shall contain

(n) The enforcement of this act shall be vested in the State Department of Agriculture, and its officers, agents and employees are authorized and empowered to enter upon the lands of any person within this State for the purpose of inspecting the package of apples and securing evidence in relation to violations of this act, and the said Department of Agriculture shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary in construing and enforcing this act; provided, however, that any such grades or classes for apples packed in closed packages which may hereafter be prescribed by any act of Congress may be established and promulgated by the State Department of Agriculture in lieu of the grades and classes herein provided. (Stats. 1925, c. 15D, § 85.)

(Id. § 7.)

66. Application of Existing Law.—Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as affecting or impairing any right or remedy at law or in equity now existing for the protection of any label, trade-mark, term, design, device or form

(Id. § 17.)

68. Manner of Adoption of Such Trade-Marks.—Every such bottler desiring to adopt a trade-mark may do so by the execution of a writing in form and effect as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that I (or we, etc., as the case may be), have adopted the following trade-mark to be used in my (or our, etc.) business as a bottler. (Here insert the words, letters, figures, etc., constituting the trade-mark, or if it be any device other than words, letters, or figures, etc., insert a facsimile thereof.) Dated this ..... day of ....., A. D. ..... A. B.

The said writing shall be acknowledged or proved for record in the same manner as deeds are acknowledged or proved for record, and shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county where the principal office or place of business of such bottler may be, and also in the office of the Secretary of State and a copy thereof shall be published at least once in each week, for four successive weeks in some newspaper printed in such county, or if there be no such paper printed therein, then in some newspaper of general circulation in such county. (Id. § 20.)

71. Evidence in Prosecutions.—In any legal proceedings, civil or criminal before any court or justice of the peace the fact that such trade-mark is stamped, impressed, blown or otherwise wrought in any such bottle, shall be prima facie proof that such bottle is the property of the proprietor of such trade-mark. In any prosecution for a violation of any provision of this act, the fact that the defendant filled with milk, cream, buttermilk, mineral waters, or other liquids, or sold or disposed of, or bought, or trafficked in any such bottles so marked, without the permission of the proprietor of such trade-mark, shall be prima facie proof that he did so unlawfully. (Id. § 21.)

72. Searches and Seizures.—The proprietor of any such trade-mark, or any agent of such proprietor, having reason to believe that any such bottle so marked, is hidden, secreted, or unlawfully held by any person whomsoever, at any place, in this State, may go before any justice of the peace of the county, and make oath that he has reason to believe that certain bottles, bearing certain trade-marks, are unlawfully hidden, secreted, or held at a certain place, naming the place, by a certain person, naming the person, if the name be known, and describing the trade-mark, whereupon it shall be the duty of the justice before whom such oath is made, to issue a search warrant directed to any constable or other proper officer, to search the place where such bottles are alleged to be, and if upon such search any such bottles shall be found to take possession of the same and to bring the person, or persons, in whose control, or possession any such trade-marked bottles may be found, before such justice to be dealt with according to law. And all such bottles so found shall be delivered by the officer to the proprietor of the trade-mark on them; provided, that none of the foregoing sections shall be construed to affect the right of any dealer to continue to use any bottles upon which is not marked or into which no mark has been blown, which he may now have in his possession. (Id. § 22,)

73. Existing Trade-Marks; Liquors.—All of the provisions of this act shall apply to trade-marks whether the same shall have been heretofore, or shall be hereafter, adopted as provided for by any former act of the Legislature, or under this act; provided, however, that the word "liquids" as used in this act shall not be construed to mean or embrace intoxicating liquors, as intoxicating liquors are defined by the prohibitory laws of this State, (Id. § 23.)

Such penalty shall be deemed license tax, and shall be assessed and collected in the manner prescribed in this chapter as to other license taxes, except that the license certificate issued therefore and the report thereof made to the auditor shall state separately the amount of the license tax proper and the penalty. It shall be the duty of the officer who issues the certificate of license to state therein the full amount of the tax thereof and of the penalty separately; and it shall be the duty of the officer charged with the collection of the tax on such license to collect the full amount thereof and of the penalty. It shall be the duty of the auditor to charge the officer with the full amount of such tax and penalty. If any such officer shall violate this section he shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars; and, in addition thereto, the officer whose duty it was to collect such tax and penalty shall be liable for the amount thereof he failed to collect that might have been collected by due diligence. General Powers and Duties of Commissioner.—The State Commissioner shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, either personally or by deputy or through the agency of a county or city sealer of weights and measures, to inspect, test, try and ascertain if they are correct, all weights, measures, and weighing or measuring devices kept, offered or exposed for sale, sold or used or employed by any proprietor, agent, lessee, or employee in proving the size, quantity, extent, area, or measurement of quantities, things, produce, or articles for distribution or consumption purchased or offered or submitted by such person or persons for sale, hire, or award; and he shall have the power to and shall from time to time weigh or measure and inspect packages or amounts of commodities of whatsoever kind kept for the purpose of sale, offered or exposed for sale, or sold or in the process of delivery, in order to determine whether the same contain the amounts represented, and whether they be offered for sale or sold in a manner in accordance with law. He shall at least twice a year and as much oftener as he may deem necessary see that all weights, measures and weighing or measuring devices are correct. He and his authorized deputies may for the purpose above mentioned, and in the general performance of their official duties, enter and go into or upon, and without formal warrant, any stand, place, building, or premises, or stop any dealer whatsoever, and require him, if necessary, to proceed to some place which the State Commissioner may specify, for the purpose of making the proper tests. Whenever the State Commissioner finds a violation of the statutes relating to weights and measures, he shall cause the violator to be prosecuted. (Id. § 9.)

86. Sealing of Correct Weights and Measures.—Whenever the State Commissioner compares weights, measures, or weighing or measuring instruments and finds that they correspond, or causes them to correspond, with the standards in his possession he shall seal or mark such weights, measures, or weighing or measuring instruments with appropriate devices. (Id. § 10.)

87. Condemnation of Incorrect Weights and Measures.—The State Commissioner shall condemn and seize and may destroy incorrect weights, measures or weighing or measuring devices which, in his best judgment, are not susceptible of satisfactory repair, but such as are incorrect and yet may be repaired, he shall mark or tag as "condemned for repairs." The owner or users of any weights, measures, or weighing or measuring devices of which such disposition is made, shall have the same repaired or corrected within ten days, and said owner or users may neither use nor dispose of the same in any way, but shall hold the same at the disposal of the commissioner. Any weights, measures, or weighing or measuring devices which have not been repaired as required above, shall be confiscated by the commissioner. (Id. § 11.)

88. Powers and Duties of Deputies and Inspectors.—The powers and duties given to and imposed upon the State Commissioner of Weights and Measures by sections six, nine, ten and eleven, are hereby given to and imposed upon his

A county sealer or city sealer appointed in pursuance of an agreement for such combination shall, subject to the terms of his appointment, have the same authority, jurisdiction, and duties as if he had been appointed by each of the authorities who are parties to the agreement. All such weights, measures, and other apparatus having been tried and accurately proven by the State Commissioner shall be sealed and certified to by him as hereinbefore provided, and shall then be deposited with and preserved by the county or city sealer as public standards for such county or city. Whenever the county commissioner of such county or the common council or [of] such city shall neglect for six months so to do, the county clerk of said county, or the city clerk or recorder of said city, on notification and request by the Commissioner of Weights and Measures, shall provide such standards and cause the same to be tried, sealed and deposited at the expense of the county or city. (Id. § 17.)

A record of the bonds furnished, and the designating numbers and to whom furnished shall be kept in the office of the Commissioner of Weights and Measures.

Any person, firm or corporation desiring such license shall make written application to the Dairy and Food Commissioner for that purpose, stating the location of the warehouse. The Dairy and Food Commissioner thereupon shall cause an examination to be made of said warehouse and, if it be found by him to be in proper sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for its intended use, he shall issue a license authorizing the applicant to operate the same as a cold storage warehouse during one year upon payment to the State Treasurer by the applicant of a license fee as follows: For a warehouse located in a city of the first class, forty dollars; for a warehouse located in a city of the second class, thirty dollars; for a warehouse located in a city of the third class, twenty dollars; and for a warehouse located in a city of the fourth class, ten dollars. (Id. § 111.02.)

31. Sanitation.—In case any cold storage warehouse, or any part thereof, shall at any time be deemed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner to be in an insanitary condition, or not properly equipped for its intended use, he shall notify the licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such cold storage warehouse in a sanitary condition or to properly equip the same for its intended use, within a time to be designated by the Dairy and Food Commissioner, he shall revoke such license. (Id. § 111.03.)

32. Records and Reports.—Every such licensee shall keep accurate records of the articles of food received in and of the articles of food withdrawn from his cold storage warehouse, and the Dairy and Food Commissioner shall have free access to such records at any time. Every such licensee shall submit a monthly report to the Dairy and Food Commissioner, setting forth in itemized particulars the quantities and kinds of articles of food received in, delivered from and remaining in his cold storage warehouse. Such monthly reports shall be filed on or before the fifth day of each month, and the reports so rendered shall show the articles of food taken in, and delivered from his cold storage warehouse during the preceding month, the conditions existing on the last day of the preceding month reported and a summary of such reports shall be prepared by the Dairy and Food Commissioner and shall be open to public inspection on or before the tenth day of each month. (Id. § 111.04.)

33. Inspection.—The Dairy and Food Commissioner shall inspect and supervise all cold storage warehouses and make such inspection of articles of food therein as he may deem necessary to secure the proper enforcement of this chapter, and he shall have access to all cold storage warehouses at all reasonable times. All articles of food in any cold storage warehouse at the time this chapter goes into effect shall, before being removed therefrom, be plainly marked, stamped or tagged with the date when this chapter goes into effect and the date of removal therefrom. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except the ultimate consumer or purchaser of such article of food, to remove, alter, mutilate or conceal such dates of entry and removal from cold storage. It shall be unlawful to return to any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been once released from storage for the purpose of placing it on the market for sale. Provided, however, that the Dairy and Food Commissioner may, upon application, permit eggs and butter to be returned to any cold storage warehouse, provided the same is found upon examination to be in proper condition for further cold storage. Such return shall be unlawful unless all prior stampings, markings and taggings upon such article shall remain thereon. (2) For the purpose of sections 96.50 to 96.54, an article shall be deemed to be misbranded:

(a) In the case of insecticides, Paris greens, lead arsenates and fungicides: First, if it be an imitation or offered for sale under the name of another article; second, if it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package; third, if the quantity of the contents be not plainly and correctly stated on the outside of the package.

(b) In the case of insecticides (other than Paris green and lead arsenates) and fungicides: First, if it contains arsenic in any of its combinations or in the elemental form, and the total amount of arsenic present (expressed as per cent of metallic arsenic) is not stated on the label; second, if it contains arsenic in any of its combinations or in the elemental form and the amount of arsenic in water-soluble forms (expressed as per cent of metallic arsenic) is not stated on the label; third, if it consists partially or completely of an inert substance or substances which do not effectively prevent, destroy or repel insects or fungi, and does not have the names and percentage amounts of each and every one of such inert ingredients, and the fact that they are inert plainly and correctly stated on the label; provided, that in lieu of naming and stating the percentage amount of each and every inert ingredient, the producer may at his discretion state plainly upon the label the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every ingredient of the insecticide or fungicide having insecticidal or fungicidal properties, and make no mention of the inert ingredients, except in so far as to state the total percentage of inert ingredients present. (Id. § 96.53.)

151. Immunity by Wholesaler's Guaranty.—(1) No dealer or agent shall be prosecuted under the provisions of sections 96.50 to 96.54, when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other person residing in the United States, from whom he purchased such articles, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of sections 96.50 to 96.54. Said guaranty, to afford protection, shall contain the name and address of the person making the sale of such articles to such dealer or agent, and in such case said person shall be amenable to the fines and other penalties, which would otherwise attach to the dealer or agent.

(2) Any insecticide or fungicide that is condemned as being adulterated or misbranded, shall be confiscated and disposed of by destruction, or in such other manner as the inspector may direct. (Id. § 96.54.)

152. Penalty.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of sections 96.50 to 96.54 or any rule or regulation of the Commissioner of Agriculture promulgated under it shall be fined not to exceed two hundred dollars for the first offense; and, upon conviction for each subsequent offense, be punished by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not to exceed one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. 153. Board.—(1) The State Board of Pharmacy consists of five resident pharmacists, at the time of appointment actually engaged in practice, appointed by the Governor, one each year for a term of five years.

(2) Annual meeting shall be held in April, at which president and secretary-treasurer shall be elected for terms of one year. Meetings for examinations and other business shall be held at least quarterly. Time and place of meetings shall be fixed by president and secretary. Thirty days' public notice shall be given of examinations.

(3) The secretary-treasurer need not be a member. He shall keep a record of the proceedings and a register of the names and places of business of persons registered under this chapter, which shall be prima facie evidence of the facts. He shall give such bond and receive such salary as the board determines. Members and officers shall receive their actual and necessary expenses.

(4) The board may adopt by-laws, and shall cause prosecution of violations of this chapter. It shall report annually, to the Governor and the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Asociation, its proceedings, registrations, and receipts and disbursements. (Stats. 1925, § 151.01, amended L. 1927, c. 448.)

154. Examination and Registration of Pharmacists; Use of Certain Titles Regulated.—(1) All candidates for entrance to examination for registration as pharmacists must file application with the secretary of the board and pay the required fee of ten dollars, at least ten days before the date of examination, five dollars of which shall be refunded if such applicants fail to pass the examination; must be at least twenty-one years of age; must be of good moral character and temperate in habits; and if not citizens of the United States must have filed and proven their intentions of becoming citizens; and must be graduates of a standard, recognized high school, or must have acquired the equivalent of a high school education in some other institution of equal rank or standing, or must have passed an examination for the equivalent of high school given by a State university or by a State department or bureau of education issuing a qualifying certificate for the necessary high school units recognized by the University of Wisconsin, or any other equivalent of a high school education recognized by the University of Wisconsin.

(2) Every such applicant for examination and registration as pharmacist must, in addition, file with the secretary proof satisfactory to the board, of having had at least four years of pharmaceutical training consisting of:

(a) Graduation from a school or college of pharmacy or a department of pharmacy of a university, which is recognized by the board and which requires for graduation at least a three-year course, consisting of not less than three nine-month terms. Credit for actual time of attendance at the school, college or department of pharmacy of a university shall be given on the required four years of pharmaceutical training; the remainder of the four years must be practice and experience in a retail pharmacy or drug store under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist, which practice and experience shall be predominantly work directly related to the selling of drugs, preparing and compounding of pharmaceutical preparations and physicians' prescriptions, and keeping of records and making of reports required under State and Federal statutes.

(b) If the applicant has graduated from a four-year course in a school, college or department of pharmacy of a university, recognized by the board, he or she may be credited with three years on the required four years of pharmaceutical training; the remaining one year of the required four years of pharmaceutical training must have been practice and experience acquired in a retail pharmacy or drug store under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist, and such practice and experience must have been predominantly work directly related to the selling of drugs, preparing and compounding of pharmaceutical preparations and physicians' prescriptions and keeping of records and making of reports required under State and Federal statutes.

(c) Provided, however, that exemption from the requirement of being a graduate in pharmacy in order to be examined for registered pharmacists shall be granted to persons who, before this section becomes effective, have been employed for at least one year in a retail pharmacy or drug store under a registered pharmacist, and who have registered as apprentices or who register as apprentices within ninety days after this section becomes effective and who file proofs satisfactory to the board of having acquired four years of pharmaceutical training and experience under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist, or to persons registered as assistant pharmacists prior to the time this section becomes effective, who file proofs satisfactory to the board of having acquired four years of pharmaceutical training and experience under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist; provided, further, that all such persons prove that they have acquired the requisite fitness and knowledge by successfully passing an examination before the board within four years from the date on which this applicant is qualified to be examined. If they cannot or do not qualify by successfully passing an examination within said four years, they shall, in keeping with public welfare, be required thereafter to first become graduates of a recognized school, college or department of pharmacy of a university recognized by the board before again being permitted entrance to examination for registration as pharmacists.

(3) Applicants filing proofs, satisfactory to the board, of qualifications and training as outlined in the preceding subsection shall, after having passed examination by the board, be granted certificates as registered pharmacists. Proof satisfactory to the board covering experience, preliminary education, college of pharmacy graduation, and character herein required shall be filed with the secretary of the board. Every registered pharmacist may continue to be such by annually, at such time as the board may determine, renewing his certificate upon paying the fee of two dollars. Failure to obtain such renewal for sixty days after the secretary of such board shall have given a second notice of the expiration of his registration, shall terminate the right of any person to be a registered pharmacist within the meaning of this section, and such right can only be acquired by compliance wtih the provisions concerning original registration, again applying for and passing an examination satisfactory to the board.

(4) Candidates for entrance to examination and registration as assistant pharmacists must file applications with the secretary of the board and pay the required fee of five dollars, at least ten days before the examination, two dollars of which shall be refunded if such applicants fail to pass the examination; must be at least eighteen years of age, and must be graduates of a standard recognized high school, or must have acquired the equivalent of a high school education in some other institution of equal rank or standing, or must have passed an examination for the equivalent of high school given by a State university or by a State department or bureau of education issuing a qualifying certificate for the necessary high school units recognized by the University of Wisconsin, or any other equivalent of a high school education recognized by the University of Wisconsin; must be of good moral character and temperate in habits; shall file proof satisfactory to the board of having had at least three years of legal practice and experience in a retail pharmacy or drug store under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist, which practice and experience shall be predominantly work directly related to selling drugs and preparing and compounding pharmaceutical preparations and physicians' prescriptions, provided that not to exceed two years may be credited for time spent in a school, college or department of pharmacy of a university recognized by the board, or for pharmaceutical experience acquired in a hospital where a licensed pharmacist is regularly employed for compounding prescriptions; or in the hospital corps of the United States Army or United States Navy, under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist. Provided, however, that of the three years of pharmaceutical training and experience required, each applicant shall have had no less than one year of practice and experience in a retail pharmacy or drug store under the direction and supervision of a registered pharmacist which shall be predominantly work directly related to selling drugs and preparing and compounding pharmaceutical preparations and physicians' prescriptions and shall have passed a satisfactory examination before the board.

(5) Every registered assistant pharmacist may continue to be such by annually, at such time as the Board of Pharmacy may determine, making application thereto for the renewal of his certificate and paying the prescribed fee of one dollar. Failure to obtain such renewal for sixty days after the secretary of such board shall have given a second notice of the expiration of his registration, shall terminate the right of any person to be a registered assistant pharmacist within the meaning of this section, and such right can only be acquired by compliance with the provisions concerning original registration, again applying for and passing an examination satisfactory to the board. The issuance of either of the certificates provided for in this section shall entitle the person to whom it is issued to be registered in the proper class.

(6) The board may in its discretion register as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, without examination, any person who is duly registered in some other State, provided that the said person shall produce satisfactory evidence of having had the required secondary and professional education and training and is possessed of good character and habits demanded of applicants for registration as pharmacists and assistant pharmacists under the laws of this State, and upon payment of ten dollars, excepting that persons of good character and habits who have become registered as pharmacists or assistant pharmacists in some other State prior to the date on which this section becomes effective shall be required to meet only the requirements which existed in this State at the time when they became registered in such other State, and provided also that the State from which the applicant applies shall, under like conditions, grant reciprocal registration as a pharmacist without examination to pharmacists duly registered in this State.

(7) The board, upon notice and hearing, may revoke the registration of one guilty of felony or gross immorality, or who is addicted to alcoholic liquors or narcotic drugs to such extent as to make him unfit to practice pharmacy, or whose registration was secured by fraud.

(8) No person shall use the title "pharmacist" or "assistant pharmacist" unless duly registered as such under the provisions of this chapter, nor shall any person, firm or corporation use or display the title "drug store," "pharmacy," "apothecary," or any other title having the same or a similar meaning for such place of business, unless such place of business be one where drugs are sold in accordance with the provisions of section 151.04.

(9) No drug store, pharmacy, apothecary shop, or any similar place of business shall be kept open for the transaction of business until it has been registered with and a permit therefor has been issued by the State Board of Pharmacy; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to apply to any store or stores open for the sale of proprietary or so-called patent medicines. Every pharmacy and store conducted under the supervision of a registered pharmacist shall be annually registered on the first day of June with the State Board of Pharmacy, on application forms provided for that purpose by the board, on request, and the board shall thereupon issue a suitable certificate of registration which shall be conspicuously displayed in the respective place of business. Applications for registration as a pharmacy or drug store shall include information regarding the names of all pharmacists, assistant pharmacists and registered apprentices who are employed therein. Only places in charge of a registered pharmacist may use the title "pharmacy," "pharmacist," "apothecary" or "drug store," and each must be under the separate management of a registered pharmacist, who shall not engage to manage or supervise more than one such place, but nothing contained in this section shall prevent a person from owning and conducting more than one pharmacy, provided each be under the separate supervision of a registered pharmacist. For the registration of every place herein required to be registered, there shall be paid an annual registration fee of one dollar, payable on the first day of June of each year. Any person failing to register his place of business as herein required, failing to have in charge of each pharmacy a registered pharmacist who does not manage or supervise more than one pharmacy, or who otherwise fails to comply with the provisions of this section, shall, upon conviction, be fined the sum of not more than fifty dollars for each separate offense. (Id. § 151.02.)

155. Permit.—In rural districts with no registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist within three miles, the board may issue to merchants permit to sell for one year drugs and medicines specified therein, upon payment of fee fixed by the board, not exceeding five dollars. (Stats. 1925, § 151.03.)

156. Practice.—(1) Certificates of registration, renewals, and permits shall be conspicuously exposed in the place of business.

(2) No person shall retail, compound or dispense drugs, medicines or poisons, except Paris green, in packages labeled "Paris green, poison," nor permit it, in a town, village or city of five hundred or more inhabitants, unless he be a registered pharmacist, nor institute nor conduct a place therefor without a registered pharmacist in charge, except that a registered assistant pharmacist may do so under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist, and may have charge during the pharmacist's necessary absence, not to exceed ten days. If the inhabitants are less than five hundred, only a registered assistant pharmacist is required.

(3) This shall not interfere with the dispensing of drugs, medicines or other articles by physicians, nor with the sale of proprietary medicines in sealed packages, labeled to comply with the Federal pure food and drug law, with directions for using, and the name and location of the manufacturer, nor with the sale of alum, ammonia, borax, bay rum, bicarbonate of soda, cream of tartar, concentrated lye, olive oil, sal ammoniac, sal soda, sulphur, copperas, epsom salts, Glauber salts, castor oil, glycerine, senna leaves, indigo blue, vitriol, turpentine, wood alcohol and denatured alcohol. (Id. § 151.04.)

157. Penalty.—(1) Anyone who violates sub-section (1) of section 151.04 shall forfeit ten dollars for each failure, and anyone who willfully makes a false representation to procure registration or permit for himself or another, or who violates this chapter, shall forfeit fifty dollars for each offense.

(2) It is the duty of each member and officer of the board to institute actions for violations of this chapter or of section 146.02* and the district attorney shall promptly prosecute upon notice from any source. (Id. § 151.05.)

158. State Narcotic Law.—(1) Subsections (1) to (29) of this section shall be known and may be cited as the "State Narcotic Law." No person except those registered by federal authority so to do shall sell, furnish or deliver any cocaine, opium, morphine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, or any salt or combination of the same, or any mixture, preparation or compound containing any cocaine, or more than two grains of opium, one grain of codeine, one-fourth grain of morphine, one-eighth grain of heroin, one-eighth grain of alpha or beta eucaine in one ounce, fluid or avoirdupois ounce except in pursuance of a written order of the person to whom such article is sold, bartered, exchanged or given, on a form to be issued in blank for that purpose by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or upon the original prescription of an authorized practitioner of medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine, for a person or animal under his treatment, which prescription shall contain the signature of the prescriber and the name of the person for whom prescribed, and if a veterinary prescription, also the kind of animal. It shall be dated and kept on file by the dispenser for two years, and shall not be again filled except upon order from the prescriber.

(3) Each druggist or pharmacist who fills a prescription for a narcotic drug shall securely attach to the container thereof a label, giving the name and address of the store where the prescription is filled, the date of filling, the name of the person for whom prescribed, the name of the physician, dentist or veterinarian who issued it; and the narcotic drug so delivered shall always be kept in its container until used. No prescription shall be refilled, nor shall a copy of the same be made, except for the purpose of record by the druggist filling the same, such record to be opened at all times to inspection by officers of the Department of Public Health, the Board of Registration in Pharmacy, the Board of Registration in Medicine, authorized agents of said departments and boards, and by the police authorities and police officers of towns, villages, or cities.

(4) No practitioner of veterinary medicine shall prescribe any narcotic drug for the use of a human being, nor shall any physician or dentist prescribe, dispense, administer, sell, give or deliver any narcotic drug to any person, except when the drug is obviously and in good faith then and there needed for the treatment and cure of a disease or ailment, and not needed for any condition or disease directly due to any drug habit, or resulting solely from the failure of an habitual user of narcotic drugs to procure the particular narcotic drug to the use of which he is addicted.

(5) A physician may personally administer any narcotic drug at such time and under such circumstances as he in good faith and in the legitimate practice of medicine believes to be necessary for the alleviation of pain and suffering or for the treatment or alleviation of disease; such physician shall keep a record of all such drugs dispensed or distributed showing the amount dispensed or distributed, the date, and the name and address of the patient to whom such drugs are dispensed or distributed, except such as may be dispensed or distributed to a patient upon whom such physician shall personally attend, and such record shall be kept for a period of two years subject to inspection as provided in this section.

(6) A physician acting in accordance with proper medical practice may prescribe or dispense narcotics for the relief of acute pain, or for any acute condition, such as influenza, renal calculi, broken limbs, and such incurable diseases, such as cancer, advanced tuberculosis and other diseases well recognized as coming within this class. It shall be a violation of this section for any physician to prescribe narcotic drugs to a patient suffering from narcotic drug addictions, except only in such cases where the drug addict is being treated by such physician for the cure of narcotic drug addiction under confinement in institution.

(7) Whoever for the purpose of evading or assisting in the evasion of any provision of this section, falsely represents that he is a physician, dentist or veterinarian, or that he is a manufacturer of or jobber in drugs, or wholesale druggist, or pharmacist, actively engaged in business as such, or that he is a superintendent or official in immediate charge of an incorporated hospital, college or scientific institution, or a person registered under the act of Congress approved December 17, 1914, as amended, or whoever not being an authorized physician, dentist or veterinarian makes or alters a prescription or written order for any narcotic drug, or knowingly issues or utters a prescription or written order falsely made or altered, or whoever falsely utters any other matter, either in writing or orally to any physician, dentist, pharmacist or veterinarian for the purpose of securing a prescription, or the delivery of a narcotic drug shall be punished as provided in subsection 27 of this section.

(8) The possession by any person of a United States certificate of registration issued under and by virtue of the act of Congress approved December 17, 1914, as amended, shall be prima facie evidence of an intent to sell, furnish, give or deliver a narcotic drug.

(9) Whoever not being a manufacturer or jobber of drugs, wholesale druggist, registered pharmacist, registered physician, registered veterinarian, registered dentist, nurse acting under direction of a physician, or employee of an incorporated hospital, acting under the direction of its superintendent, or official in immediate charge, or a common carrier or messenger, when transporting any narcotic drug between persons mentioned in this subsection, in the same package in which the drug was delivered to him for transportation, is found in possession thereof, except by reason of a physician's prescription, lawfully and properly issued, shall be guilty of a violation of this section.

(10) Common carriers engaged in transporting narcotic drugs to any employee acting within the scope of his employment, or any person who is lawfully in possession for the purpose of delivery of any such drug, or to the person who delivers any such drug, which has been prescribed or dispensed by a physician, dentist or veterinarian registered under the laws of the State where he resides, who has been employed to prescribe for the particular patient receiving such drug or to a nurse under the supervision of a physician or to a person, who as an officer or duly appointed agent of any incorporated society for the suppression of vice, has the same in his possession for the purpose of assisting in the prosecution of violations of this section shall not be considered to have violated the provisions of this section.

(11) No manufacturer or jobber in drugs, wholesale druggist, or registered pharmacist shall be liable to prosecution if he fills any prescription or written order for a narcotic drug in good faith, unless he knows or has reasonable cause to suspect that the prescription or order was in violation of this section.

(12) No physician, dentist or veterinarian and no druggist or pharmacist, either wholesale or retail shall solicit by public advertisement or otherwise the application to him for prescription for or sales of narcotic drugs, nor shall he publicly advertise any treatment, the principal element of which consists in the administering. dispensing, furnishing, giving or delivery of a narcotic drug, except that a wholesale druggist or manufacturing pharmacist or private sanitarium may advertise in journals and publications intended for circulation among the medical profession and drug trade generally.

(13) No person not being a physician, dentist, nurse or veterinarian, registered under the laws of this State or of the State where he resides, or a registered embalmer, manufacturer or dealer in embalming supplies, wholesale druggist, manufacturing pharmacist, registered pharmacist, manufacturer of surgical instruments, official of any government having possession of the articles hereinafter mentioned by reason of his official duties, nurse acting under the direction of a physician, employee of an incorporated hospital acting under the direction of its superintendent or officer in immediate charge, or a carrier or messenger engaged in the transportation of such articles, shall have in his possession a hypodermic syringe, hypodermic needle or any instrument adapted for the use of narcotic drugs by subcutaneous injection except upon written order of a licensed physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinarian. No such syringe, needle or instrument shall be delivered or sold to or exchanged with any person except a registered pharmacist, physician, dentist, veterinarian, registered embalmer, manufacturer or dealer in embalming supplies, wholesale druggist, manufacturing pharmacist, a nurse under the written order of a physician, or an employee of an incorporated hospital, upon the written order of its superintendent or officer in immediate charge except upon written order of a licensed physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinarian.

(14) Each building, place or tenement which is resorted to by habitual users of narcotic drugs for the purpose of using such drugs or which is used for the illegal keeping for sale of the same shall be deemed a common nuisance; and whoever keeps or knowingly maintains such a common nuisance shall be punished by imprisonment of not less than three months.

(15) It shall be a violation of this section for any practitioner of medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine, to administer to himself, as a habitual user narcotic drugs, merely to satisfy his craving for the same, or furnish to or prescribe for the use of narcotic drugs with the purpose that the narcotic drugs be returned to him.

(16) The possession or sale of smoking preparations, of hemp or loco weed, of a pipe or pipes used for smoking opium, or the usual attachments or attachment thereto or other contrivances used for smoking opium, shall be a violation of this section and shall be seized by a peace officer and such drugs and pipes shall be destroyed by such officer.

(17) The State Board of Pharmacy may revoke the registration of any registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist upon conviction of the second offense for violating any provisions of this section.

(18) No person shall take or use narcotic drugs habitually, excessively, or except in pursuance to a prescription for such permitted use as is prescribed in subsections (5) and (6) of this section. The possession of narcotic drugs by persons not authorized by law to have such possession, or their possession of a hypodermic syringe and hypodermic needle used in the administration of drugs shall be prima facie evidence of the unlawful use of such drugs. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by commitment to an institution for the treatment of drug addicts, for a period not less than six months, or until such person shall be cured of his addiction to the use of narcotic drugs, but not exceeding one year; nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner restricting or limiting the rights of individuals as declared in subsection (2) of section 147.19 of the statutes,* provided, however, that upon the certificate of the superintendent of the institution to which such person has been committed, that such person has been cured of his addiction to the use of narcotic drugs, such person shall be released, and such commitment terminated. Any person so committed who has been confined in such institution for at least six months, and who has been refused a certificate of cure and release by the superintendent of such institution, may obtain a trial of the question of the cure of his addiction to the use of drugs in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided for the re-trial of insane persons by section 51.11.†

(19) The State Board of Control shall make provisions for the public treatment of narcotic drug addicts at one of the State institutions to which the commitment provided in subsection (18) of this section shall be made from counties, villages, and cities of the second, third, and fourth classes. Provision shall also be made by counties containing cities of the first class for the public treatment of narcotic drug addicts in local institutions, to which all commitments in pursuance of subsection (18) of this section in cities of the first class shall be made. The State shall compensate such counties for the treatment of narcotic drug addicts at the same rate and in the same manner as other inmates in the same institutions.

(20) Any person resident in the State, who may be addicted to the use of narcotic drugs, may upon his agreement to remain in such institution for a period of six months, or longer if necessary for his cure, and his written application stating his addiction, supported by the certificate of at least two physicians, who shall have been duly licensed to practice and shall have had at least two years' experience in the practice of their profession, based upon personal examination of such person, be admitted as a voluntary patient to any institution provided by the State for the treatment of drug addicts, or if such person is a resident of a city of the first class to such institution provided by such city. Such person, if so admitted to either of such institutions, if not indigent, shall be required to pay such sum for his maintenance and at such times as the State Board of Control or such city of the first class may by rule, by-law or ordinance prescribe. Otherwise all voluntary patients shall have the same standing, and be subject to the same laws, rules and regulations as drug addicts, except that they shall have the right to leave such institution at any time if in the judgment of the superintendent they are in a fit condition, on giving five days' notice to the superintendent of their desire to do so. Any such voluntary submission to admission and treatment shall operate as a bar to any prosecution for any violation of subsection (18) of this section, theretofore committed by such voluntary patient.

(21) No practitioner of medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine, for the purpose of evading this section, shall furnish to or prescribe for the use of any habitual user of the same any cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, opium, morphine, chloral hydrate, or any salt, or compound of any of the foregoing substances, or any preparations containing any of the foregoing substances or their salts or compounds. No practitioner of dentistry shall prescribe any of the foregoing substances for any person not under his treatment in regular practice, nor shall any practitioner of veterinary medicine prescribe any of the foregoing substances for the use of a human being.

(22) This section shall not apply to preparations containing less than two grains of opium in one fluid ounce when sold in good faith for diarrhœa, colic, or cholera, each bottle or package being accompanied by specific directions for use, nor to powder of ipecac and opium, nor to liniments, ointments and other preparations sold in good faith for external application, when plainly labeled "for external use only," nor to such sales made to physicians, druggists, manufacturers, hospitals or other public institutions which make lawful use of such narcotics. Provided, further, that any manufacturer, producer, compounder, or vendor (including dispensing physicians) of the preparations and remedies mentioned in this subsection shall keep a record showing the amount and kind, the date, and the name and address of the recipients of all sales, exchanges, or gifts of such preparations and remedies.

(23) No person shall sell or deliver any of the poisonous salts or compounds of antimony, arsenic, chronium, lead, mercury, silver, tin or zinc, the concentrated mineral acids; oxalic, carbolic or hydrocyanic acids or their salts, formaldehyde, yellow phosphorus, the essential oils, of almond, pennyroyal, rue, savin or tansy; croton oil, creosote, chloroform, cantharides, aconite, belladonna, bitter almonds, colchicum, cotton root, cannabis indica, digitalis, ergot, hyoscyamus, lobelia, nux vomica, physostigma, strophanthus, stramonium, veratrum viride, or any of the

(a) The dispenser shall ascertain that the applicant is aware of the poisonous character and desires it for a lawful purpose.

(b) He shall plainly label the container with the name of the substance, the word "Poison," and the name and address of the dispenser.

(c) Bfore delivery except of Paris green and sulphate of copper, he shall record in a book kept for that purpose, the name of the article, the quantity, the purpose, the date, the name and address of the person for whom procured, and the name of the individual personally dispensing the same; and said book shall be preserved by the owner thereof for at least three years after the date of the last entry therein, and shall be open to inspection by authorized officers.

(d) If the applicant be under fourteen years of age, he must have the written order of an adult person.

(24) (a) Subsection (4) shall not apply to manufacturers and wholesalers selling at wholesale to licensed pharmacists or others, but the container shall be labeled with the name of the substance, the word "Poison," and the name and address of the manufacturer or wholesaler.

(b) A "Poison" label is not required when a single container or when one-half ounce fluid or avoirdupois does not contain more than an adult medicinal dose nor in the case of liniments, ointments or other external preparations sold in good faith as such, and plainly labeled "for external use only," nor in the case of pills, tablets or lozenges, when the dose recommended does not contain more than one-quarter of an adult medicinal dose.

(25) No person seeking to procure any such substance shall make fraudulent representations for the purpose of evading the law.

(26) Except as authorized by law, no person shall put any drug, medicine or chemical or any compound or combination thereof in any public place, or, without the consent of the owner or occupant upon any private premises, nor cause it to be done.

(27) Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of section 146.02, if not otherwise specifically provided, shall be guilty of felony and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the house of correction or State prison or other State or county institution for not less than one year nor more than five years.

(28) No practicing physician or surgeon shall write or cause to be written any narcotic prescription or recipe except in ink or indelible pencil and in characters, figures or ciphers in the English or Latin language, generally in use among medical practitioners and for every violation hereof the offender shall forfeit not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars.

(29) It shall be the duty of the police and sheriffs throughout the State and members of the State Board of Pharmacy to enforce the provisions of section 146.02; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney in each county to prosecute violations thereof on complaint or on knowledge of such violations. (Id. § 146.02, as amended L. 1927, c. 336.)

159. Keeping or Leasing Place to Smoke Opium.—Any person who opens or maintains, to be resorted to by other persons, any place where opium or any of its preparations is sold or given away to be smoked at such place, and any person who, at such place, sells or gives away any opium or any of its preparations to be there smoked or otherwise used, and any person who visits or resorts to any such place for the purpose of smoking opium or any of its preparations, and any person who shall knowingly lease or let to another any house or other building, or any room therein, for the purpose of use as a place in which opium or any of its preparations are to be smoked or otherwise used, and any person who shall knowingly lease his premises or any part thereof to be used for such purpose shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than one year or by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars. (Stats. 1925, § 348.471.)

160. 7. Drug and Food Defined.—The term "drug" as used in this chapter shall include all medicines and preparations recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary for internal or external use, and any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure, mitigation, or prevention of disease of either man or other animals. The term "food" as used herein, shall include all articles used for food, drink, confectionery or condiment, by man or other animals, whether simple, mixed or compound. (Id. § 3729.)

8. Adulterated Articles.—For the purpose of this chapter an article shall be deemed to be adulterated:

In Case of Drugs:

First—If, when a drug is sold under, or by a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia, or National Formulary, it differs from the standard of strength, quality, or purity, as determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary official at the time of investigation, provided, that no drug defined in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary shall be deemed to be adulterated under this provision, if the standard of strength, quality or purity be plainly stated upon the bottle, box or other container thereof, although the standard may differ from that determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary.

Second—If its strength or purity shall fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold.

In the Case of Confectionery:

If it contains terra alba, barytes, talc, chrome yellow, or other mineral substances or poisonous color or flavor, or other ingredient deleterious or detrimental to health, or any vinous, malt or spirituous liquor, or compound, or narcotic drug.

Fourth—If it be mixed, colored, powdered, coated or stained in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed.

Fifth—If it contains any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient, which may render such article injurious to health; provided, that when in the preparation of food products for shipment they are preserved by an external application, applied in such a manner that the preservative is necessarily removed, mechanically, or by maceration in water, or otherwise, and directions for the removal of said preservative shall be printed on the covering of the package, the provisions of this act shall be construed as applying only when said products are ready for consumption.

Sixth—If it be coated with talc, clay, paraffin, varnish, shellac or any other injurious substances.

Seventh—If it consists in whole or in part of filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substances, or any portion of an animal unfit for food, whether manufactured or not, or if it is the product of a diseased animal, or one that has died otherwise than by slaughter.

Eighth—If, in case of poultry, domestic or wild fowls, or any slaughtered rabbits, squirrels, or other small animals wild or tame, the crops, entrails and other offensive parts are not properly drawn or removed. (Id. § 3730.)

9. Misbranded Foods and Drugs.—The term "misbranded," as used herein, shall apply to all drugs or articles of food, or articles which enter into the composition of food, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design or device, regarding such article or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to any food or drug product which is falsely branded as to the State, territory or country in which it is manufactured or produced.

For the purpose of this act an article shall also be deemed to be misbranded:

In Case of Drugs:

First—If it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article.

Third—If its package or label shall bear or contain any statement, design, or device regarding the curative or therapeutic effect of such article or any ingredients or substances contained therein, which is false and fraudulent.

In Case of Food:

First—If it be an imitation of, or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

Second—If it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser, or purport to be a foreign product when not so, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if it fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any of such substances contained therein.

Third—If in package form, the quantity of the contents be not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package in terms of weight, measure or numerical count; provided, however, that reasonable variations shall be permitted and also exemptions as to small packages may be established by rules and regulations made in accordance with section 3741.

Fourth—If the package containing it or its label shall bear any statement, design or device regarding the ingredients or the substances contained therein, which statement, design or device, shall be false or misleading in any particular; provided, that any article of food, which does not contain any added poisonous or deleterious ingredients shall not be deemed to be adulterated or misbranded in the following cases:

First—In the case of mixtures or compounds which may be now or from time to time hereafter known as articles of food, under their own distinctive names, and not an imitation of, or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article, if the name be accompanied on the same label or brand with the statement of the place where said article had been manufactured or produced.

Second—In the case of articles labeled, branded or tagged so as to plainly indicate that they are compounds, imitations or blends, and the word "compound," "imitation," or "blend," as the case may be, is plainly stated on the package in which it is offered for sale; provided, that the term "blend," as used herein, shall be construed to mean a mixture of like substances, not excluding harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients, used for the purpose of coloring and flavoring only; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring or compelling proprietors or manufacturers of proprietary foods, which contain no unwholesome added ingredients, to disclose their trade formulas, except insofar as the provisions of this act may require to secure freedom from adulteration or misbranding. (Id. § 3731.)

10. Samples—Disposition—Net Weight.—Representative samples of foods, drinks, drugs, gasoline and illuminating oils shall be collected by the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner,* or his deputies. Samples may be purchased in the open market, and if in bulk, the marks, brands, or tags upon the package, carton, wrapper or other container, and the accompanying written or printed matter shall be noted. The collector shall also note the name of the vendor and the agent through whom the sale was actually made, together with the date of purchase. Any sample so collected shall be sealed by the collector with a seal provided for the purpose. For the purpose of this chapter all samples which do not show the net weight properly marked on top of the box, package, or on the face of the principal label, may be disapproved by the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner without further test and the absence of the net weight properly labeled shall be prima facie evidence that they are misbranded and need not be sent to the State Chemist for examination, but may be certified to the county attorney directly by the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner, or his deputies, without the certificate of the State Chemist. (Id. § 3732, as amended L. 1921, c. 33, § 2.)

11. State Chemist Shall Make Analysis.—It shall be the duty of the State Chemist to make, or cause to have made, under his direction, analysis and examinations of such articles as shall be furnished to him by the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner,* or his deputies, for the purpose of determining upon such examinations whether such articles are adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this chapter, and to certify the results of such analysis and examinations to the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner. (C. S. 1920, § 3733.)

*See No. 30. This law is to be corrected accordingly.

12. When Analysis Shows Violation.—When the examinations or analysis shows that the provisions of this chapter have been violated, the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall cause notice of such fact, together with copy of the findings, to be given to the party or parties from whom the sample was obtained, and to the party, if any, whose name appears upon the label as manufacturer, packer, wholesaler, retailer or other dealer. The parties so notified, shall be given an opportunity to be heard under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed as aforesaid. Notices shall specify the date, hour and place of the hearing. The hearing shall be private, and the parties interested therein may appear in person or by attorney. If the party, whose name appears on the label, resides without the State, he shall be entitled to a reasonable notice by mail as may, with due diligence, be obtained. (Id. § 3734.)

13. Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner Shall Certify to Prosecuting Attorney.—If, after such hearing, the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner is convinced that the provisions of this chapter have been violated, he shall certify at once to the county prosecuting attorney of the county in which the collection was made, a copy of the results of the examination of such article, duly authenticated by the State Chemist making such examination under oath of such officer. (Id. § 3735.)

14. Prosecuting Attorney Shall Prosecute.—It shall be the duty of every prosecuting officer to whom the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall report any violation of this chapter, as herein provided, to cause appropriate proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in the proper courts without delay, for the enforcement of the penalty as in such case herein provided. (Id. § 3736.)

15. Publication of Judgment.—After judgment of the court, notice shall be given by publication, in such manner as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations aforesaid. If an appeal be taken from the judgment of the court, notice of that fact must accompany the publication. (Id. § 3737.)

16. Penalty for Violations.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00), nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00); and for each subsequent offense and conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00), nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00), or shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than sixty days, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Id. § 3738.)

17. Dealers' Protection.—Under the provisions of this chapter, no dealer shall be prosecuted for selling or offering for sale any article of food, drug, gasoline, or illuminating oil in the original, unbroken package in which it was received by said dealer, provided, he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer, or other person, residing in the United States from whom he purchased such article, to the effect that same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, designating it. Said guaranty to afford protection shall contain the name and address of the person making the sale of such article to such dealer, and in such case said person shall be amenable to the prosecutions, fines, and other penalties which would attach in due course to the dealer under the provisions of this chapter. When the examination or analysis herein provided shows that the provisions of this chapter have been violated, and the dealer is relieved from prosecution under this section by the production of a guaranty signed by the person residing outside of this State, then the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner in the case of foods and drugs, shall report such fact to the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or the proper officer appointed for the enforcement of Act of Congress, approved June 30, 1906, known as the "Food and Drug Act." (Id. § 3739.)

18. Word "Person" Construed.—The word "person" as used in this chapter shall be construed to import both the plural and singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this chapter, the act, omission or failure of any officer, agent or other person acting for, or employed by any company, corporation, society or association within the scope of his employment, or office, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such corporation, company, society or association, as well as that of the person. (Id. § 3740.)

19. Rules and Regulations.—The State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner, in executing the provisions of all laws which come under his jurisdiction shall accept such of the Rules and Regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture as he may deem necessary and adopt the standards of purity for foods as laid down by the United States Department of Agriculture, also make, promulgate and enforce such other rules and regulations as may seem necessary and proper to a prompt and effective enforcement of the laws. (Id. § 3741.)

20. Agent for Service.—For the purpose of this chapter and for the purpose of getting service on foreign companies. corporations. or firms, any agent or person who shall sell, keep for sale, offer for sale or handle goods made, sold or handled by said firms, company or corporation, shall be deemed an agent thereof, upon whom the process of any court of this State of competent jurisdiction may be served for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter and service upon such agent shall be binding upon his principals. (Id. § 3742.)

(Id. § 248, as amended L. 1921, c. 33, § 1.)

(Id. § 252.)

27. Bond.—Before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall give bond in the sum of two thousand dollars to the State of Wyoming, which shall be approved by the Governor, conditioned that he will truly account for and apply all moneys or other property which may come into his hands in his official capacity, and for the faithful performance of the duties of his office as the same are prescribed by law; which bond, with his oath of office endorsed thereon, shall be filed with the Secretary of State. (Id. § 253.)

28. Condemnation of Foods.—Any article of food, drink, medicine, drug or liquor that is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the chapter† prohibiting the manufacture and sale of adulterated, misbranded, poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines and liquors, approved March 2, 1911 (chapter 230), or any amendment thereof or that is made, labeled or branded contrary to the provisions of the said chapter, or that does not conform to the definition or analytical requirements provided in the said act, and is being sold or offered for sale or exposed for sale within the State of Wyoming, shall be liable to be proceeded against before any justice of the peace, within whose jurisdiction the same may be found, and seized for condemnation and confiscation; and authority and jurisdiction are hereby vested in the several justices of the peace, to issue the warrant and to hear and determine the proceedings herein provided for. Such proceedings shall be by complaint, verified by affidavit, and in the name of the State of Wyoming against the article or articles proceeded against, particularly describing the same, the place where they are located, the name of the person, firm or corporation in whose possession they are found, and wherein they violate the provisions of this section. Thereupon said justice of the peace shall issue a warrant returnable not less than three nor more than ten days after its date directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county commanding such officer to seize and take into his possession the article or articles described in the complaint, and bring the same before the justice of the peace who issued the warrant, and to summon the person, firm or corporation named in the warrant and any other person who may be found in possession of the said articles to appear at the time and place therein specified, which warrant shall be executed and served in the same manner as a writ of replevin in civil cases before such justice of the peace. The hearing upon such complaint shall be at the time and place specified in the warrant, which time shall not be less than five days nor more than fifteen days from the return day. Upon the hearing the complaint may be amended, and any person, firm or corporation that appears and claims the said article or articles shall be required to file its claim in writing, and either party may demand a trial by jury and appeal may be taken as in other civil cases. If upon such hearing such article is condemned as being adulterated or misbranded or of a poisonous or deleterious character within the meaning of the said chapter, or as made, labeled or branded contrary to the provisions of the said act, or as not conforming to the definition or analytical requirements provided in the said act, the same shall, unless an appeal be taken, be confiscated and disposed of by destruction or sale, as the justice of the peace may direct, and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into the treasury of the State of Wyoming, but such article shall in no instance be sold contrary to the provisions of the said chapter; provided, however, that upon the payment of the costs of such proceedings and the execution and delivery of a good and sufficient bond to the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner for the use of the State of Wyoming, to the effect that such articles shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of contrary to the provisions of the said chapter, the justice of the peace may, by order, direct that such articles be delivered to the owner thereof. Whenever the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner, or his deputy, shall have ground for suspicion that any article of food, found in possession of any person, firm or corporation, is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the said chapter, he may without a warrant seize such article of food and make an inventory thereof, and shall leave a copy of such inventory with the party holding such suspected goods, and tag the same "suspected," and he shall notify in writing the person, firm or corporation in whose possession it may be found, not to offer the same for sale or sell or otherwise dispose of the same until further notice in writing from the commissioner. Whereupon the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall forthwith cause a sample of said article of food to be examined or analyzed by the State Chemist, and if the same shall be found to be adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the said act, the commissioner shall proceed with a hearing and subsequent proceedings, as provided in this section. If, however, such examination or analysis shall show that such article of food complies with the provisions of the said chapter, the person, firm or corporation in whose possession such article of food is found shall forthwith be notified in writing that said seizure is released and authority given to dispose of such article of food. Any justice of the peace of the county, upon the filing of an affidavit by the State Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner or his deputy that he has probable cause for believing any food or dairy product or substitute therefor, or imitation thereof, kept for sale or for a purpose, or had in possession or under control, contrary to the provisions of the said act, or other laws which now exist or may be hereafter enacted, are concealed by any person or at any place shall issue a search warrant and cause a search to be made in any place therefor, and to that end may cause any building, enclosure, guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than wagon or car to be entered, and any apartment, chest, box, locker, tub, jar, crate, basket or package to be broken open and the contents thereof examined. (Id. § 254.)

29. Interference—Penalty.—Any person or persons interfering with the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner in the discharge of his duties shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, nor more than three hundred dollars, nor imprisonment for more than ninety days in jail, or both fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (Id. § 255.)

29a. Establishment of Department—Commissioner.—A State Department of Agriculture is hereby created and established under the management and control of a Board of Agriculture acting through a public officer to be known as the State Commissioner of Agriculture, to be appointed by the board. (L. 1923, c. 100, § 1.)

29b. Duties of Commissioner.—The commissioner shall have his office in the capitol building of the State of Wyoming and shall act as Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture. He shall be the executive officer of the State Board of Agriculture, and shall under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture enforce and execute all provisions and laws of the State required to be enforced by the said board and also all rules and regulations of said board. . . . He shall enforce and supervise the administration of all laws relating to agriculture, horticulture, epiculture, poultry, dairying, agricultural products and agricultural interests (except when these laws are especially delegated to some other department). (Id. § 12.)

29c. Additional Duties of Commissioner.—He shall collect State Agricultural statistics annually and aid in every way possible in the problem connected with the grading, standardizing, marketing and distributing of agricultural products; and may, after investigation, establish and promulgate, with the approval of the Board of Agriculture, standard grades and other standard classifications of and for agricultural products; and may appoint the necessary inspectors of agricultural products; and also may enter into agreements with the United States Department of Agriculture whenever he may deem it necessary or advisable for the establishment of joint State-Federal inspection service in Wyoming for agricultural products. A certificate of inspection, when not reversed or modified, certifying grade or other classification of any farm product, when issued by a regularly authorized State or State-Federal inspector, shall be accepted in any court of this State as prima facie evidence of the true grade or classification of such product at the time of its grading or classification. The Commissioner of Agriculture, acting under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture in the collecting of information necessary to the performance of his duties, as such Commissioner of Agriculture, is hereby authorized to call upon the several State, county, city, town, precinct and school district officers and the officers of the several State institutions of learning, penal and other State instiutions for such information as may be required for properly setting forth the resources of the State and the development thereof. And it shall be the duty of all such officers to furnish such information upon blanks furnished by the State Board of Agriculture when a written request of the Commissioner of Agriculture is presented. Each owner, operator or manager of any manufacturing, mining or other business establishment operating in this State, or other person having information necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act, shall, upon request of the Commissioner, furnish the same upon blanks supplied by the State Board of Agriculture. He shall also prepare exhibits of the State's resources, whenever practicable, for national, international and State expositions. (Id. § 14, as amended L. 1927, c. 57, § 1.)

30. Dairy, Food and Oil Department Discontinued—Transfer of Duties.—From and after April 1st, 1923, or as soon thereafter as the State Department of Agriculture may be organized for business, the office of Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall be abolished and the tenure of all employees of said office is hereby terminated. All powers now vested in the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner and all duties and privileges now imposed and conferred upon him by and under the existing laws, are hereby transferred to and imposed and conferred upon the Commissioner of Agriculture, to be exercised by him through such chief of division, deputy assistant or other agency as he may determine with the approval of the Board of Agriculture. The records of said office shall be transferred by him to the Commissioner of Agriculture and the rules and regulations promulgated by him and in force on the date when this act shall take effect and shall continue in force until altered or repealed by the Commissioner of Agriculture in accordance with law. All proceedings then pending before the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner shall be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Agriculture, who is hereby vested with full authority to carry the same to completion as the Dairy, Food and Oil Commissioner might have done had it not been for the enactment of this statute. In carrying out the provisions of this act, no new provisions or official positions not otherwise provided for in this act shall be created within the Department of Agriculture, except in the employment of such additional clerical assistance as may prove necessary in the discharge of the additional duties imposed upon the department. (L. 1923, c. 100, § 16.)

30a. Provisions Relative to Enforcement Not Changed.—The requirements and provisions as to inspections, quarantines, and general police regulations of laws already upon the statute books or that may subsequently be added are in no wise rescinded or abated by this act. The method of their administration only is hereby modified to conform to exigencies and conditions obtaining by reason of the creation of this new and largely inclusive Department of Agriculture. (Id. § 18.)

31. Adulterating Foods or Medicines.—Every person who adulterates or dilutes any article of food, drink, drug, medicine, spirituous or malt liquor, or wine, or any article used in compounding them, with a fraudulent intent to offer the same for sale, or to cause or permit the same to be offered for sale, as unadulterated and undiluted; and every person who fraudulently sells or keeps or offers for sale the same as unadulterated or undiluted shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not more than sixty days, or by both. (C. S. 1920, § 7249.)

32. Selling Spoiled Food or Medicine.—Every person who knowingly sells or keeps, or offers for sale, or otherwise disposes of, or tries to dispose of, any article of food, drink, drug or medicine, knowing that the same has become tainted, decayed, spoiled or otherwise unwholesome or unfit to be eaten or drunk shall be fined not more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both. (Id. § 7250.)

If pasteurized, all portions of such market milk shall be uniformly heated to a temperature of at least one hundred forty degrees, but not higher than one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit, and held at such temperature for at least thirty minutes, and immediately thereafter cooled to a temperature of fifty degrees Fahrenheit or below and so maintained until delivered to the consumer; provided, that exceptions to this required process for pasteurization may be made upon receipt of a special written permit from the Department of Agriculture of the State of California.

Every pasteurization plant shall be equipped with a sufficient number of self-registering devices to accurately record the temperature to which and the length of time for which the pasteurized product has been heated. Such records shall be kept for two months and shall be available for inspection by any authorized inspector, agent or other employee of any health department, any approved milk inspection service, or the Department of Agriculture of the State of California. Repasteurized milk shall not be sold for market milk.

Graded market milk shall be labeled with the name of the grade, which label shall also state whether such milk is raw or pasteurized, in capital letters not less than one-eighth inch in height and one-sixteenth inch in width.

No distinguishing names, pictures, symbols, marks, words or other representations, intended to signify or describe the quality of market milk or cream, except those specified in this act, shall appear on any milk bottle, milk bottle cap, milk can, or other milk container; provided, that the use of registered trade-marks or other trade symbols, which do not pertain to the quality of the product in any manner, shall not be deemed to be a violation of the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the use of the names of breeds of dairy cattle, breed trade-marks or other designations adopted by a national or State breed association approved by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, when such breed names, trade-marks or designations are placed only on an inner cap, or embossed or engraved in the glass of the bottle; or to prohibit the use of the expression, "from nonreacting tuberculin tested cows"; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the dating of milk bottle caps as otherwise provided in section 3 (c) of this act or under the rules of an approved milk inspection service, or under local ordinances.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, or association selling or handling market milk, except the original bottler thereof, to have in his or its possession, or under his or its control, any milk bottle cap or label, except the caps and/or labels that are affixed to the filled containers at the time of delivery to said seller or handler. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, selling or handling market milk to remove any cap or label from any milk container and attach said cap or label to another milk container. It shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale or have on hand for sale any milk bottle caps which are not packed by the manufacturer in a single column in unopened, dust proof tubular packages. (Id. § 2.)

Certified Milk; Guaranteed Milk, Etc.—(a) Where an approved milk inspection service is maintained as provided in section 4 of this act, market milk shall be graded and designated as follows: "certified milk," "guaranteed milk," "grade A milk," "grade B milk." Market cream if graded shall conform to all of the standards set for market milk of the same grade except that maximum bacterial count for market cream shall be not more than three times as great as that for the corresponding grade of milk.

(b) Certified milk, is market milk which conforms to the rules, regulations, methods and standards for the production and distribution of certified milk adopted by the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions and must bear the certification of a milk commission appointed by a county medical association, organized under and approved by the medical society of the State of California, and must otherwise conform to the requirement of the so-called certified milk act, approved April 25, 1913. (Stats. 1913, p. 83.)

(c) Guaranteed milk, is market milk, which shall conform to the following requirements as a minimum: If raw, the health of the cows shall be determined by physical examination at least once each month by an official representative of an approved milk inspection service and by a tuberculin test as required by section 2 (c) of this act. It shall be produced on dairies which score not less than ninety per cent on the dairy farm score card adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California. It shall be bottled on the premises where produced and must be delivered in containers having the pouring lip completely protected from contamination and shall be cooled immediately after being drawn from the cow to fifty degrees Fahrenheit or less, and so maintained until delivered to the consumer, when it shall contain not more than fifteen thousand bacteria per milliliter, and not less than three and one-half per cent of milk fat. It must be sold to the consumer within thirty hours after production and shall be labeled to indicate the date of sale to the consumer. All persons who come in contact with the raw guaranteed milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not be afflicted with any communicable disease or in a condition to disseminate the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other communicable disease liable to be conveyed by the milk. The absence of such germs in all such persons shall be determined by bacteriological and physical examination by a health department maintaining an approved milk inspection service, or other person or laboratory approved in writing by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, conducted at the time of employment and every six months thereafter in a manner approved by the said Department of Agriculture.

If pasteurized, guaranteed milk shall conform with all the provisions for raw guaranteed milk, except with respect to bottling at the ranch where produced, and except it shall contain not more than three thousand bacteria per milliliter at the time of delivery to the consumer.

It shall be produced on dairies that score not less than eighty per cent on the dairy farm score card adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California; provided, however, that dairies where no two cows freshen within four consecutive months and which are found by any milk inspection service to comply fully with the remaining provisions of this act are hereby exempted from such scoring requirements and from the use of labels prescribed in section 2 (g) hereof. It shall contain not more than fifty thousand bacteria per milliliter at the time of delivery to the consumer. All persons who come in contact with raw grade A milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not be afflicted with any communicable disease or in a condition to disseminate the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other communicable diseases liable to be conveyed by milk. Absence of such germs may be determined by bacteriological and physical examination, to the satisfaction of an approved milk inspection service.

If pasteurized, the health of the cows shall be determined by physical examination at least once in six months, by an official representative of an approved milk inspection service. It shall be produced on dairies that score not less than seventy per cent on the dairy farm score card adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California. It shall contain not more than one hundred fifty thousand bacteria per milliliter before pasteurization and not more than fifteen thousand bacteria per milliliter at the time of delivery to the consumer.

(f) Grade B milk is market milk which shall conform to the following requirements as a minimum:

It shall be produced on dairies that score not less than sixty per cent on the dairy farm score card adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California. It shall always be pasteurized and shall contain not more than one million bacteria per milliliter before pasteurization and not more than fifty thousand bacteria per milliliter at the time of delivery to the consumer. Such counties, cities, or cities and counties may contract one with the other for the maintenance by one of them of such milk inspection service and laboratory within the limits of the other and pay a pro rata of the cost thereof from license fees collected for that purpose or from other moneys available for such purposes. It shall be lawful for any county, city, or city and county to levy and collect a license tax from those who come under the provisions of this act and to pay the same or provide that the same be paid directly to any other county, city, or city and county performing the inspection service under the act as authorized herein. Upon approval in writing of such milk inspection service by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, any such milk inspection service is authorized to grade market milk as produced or sold under its jurisdiction and to require the use of the respective grade designations as prescribed in section 3 of this act.

(b) Any person, firm, corporation or association, or any group of persons, firms, corporations or associations engaged in the sale or distribution of market milk where an approved milk inspection service, in connection with a local health department, is not maintained may make application in writing to the Department of Agriculture of the State of California requesting the establishment of an approved milk inspection service, authorized to grade the market milk sold or distributed by them in conformity with all of the provisions of this act, and the rules and regulations for its enforcement and to require the use of respective grade designations prescribed in section 3 of this act. Upon receipt of such application by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California the Directors of Agriculture of the State of California through his duly authorized agents shall cause an investigation pertaining to the merits of such application, to be made. If, from the results of such investigation, it shall appear necessary and desirable that such approved milk inspection service be established, the applicant or applicants shall be provided with a form of contract, whereby said applicant or applicants shall agree to accept and to comply with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations for its enforcements, and to pay a fee sufficient to defray the salaries and other expenses in connection with the maintenance of an approved milk inspection service which amount is to be designated by the Director of Agriculture, and which shall be payable three months in advance during the first week of January, April, July and October of each year. When such agreement shall be signed by the applicant or applicants it shall be validated by the signature of the Director of Agriculture who shall at the same time issue a proclamation establishing a milk inspection service and granting the privileges requested in the application as hereinabove set forth.

(d) The Director of Agriculture of the State of California is hereby authorized to approve local milk inspection services and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary from time to time to enforce any provision of this act.

(e) Any milk delivered by the producer thereof, to be sold as any grade of market milk, defined in section 3 of this act, shall not be degraded or excluded from the market when a score of the dairy on which said milk is produced is below the specified minimum legal requirement unless a copy of said score shall be promptly given to the proprietor or operator of the dairy and the purchaser of the milk produced by said dairy, and until after a period of sixty hours subsequent to a rescore, made after a period of ten days following the previous scoring, shows the score of said dairy to be again below the specified minimum legal requirement, and a copy of such rescore promptly given to the proprietor or operator of said dairy and the purchaser of the milk produced by said dairy. If, during the said sixty hour period following this said rescoring, a protest is filed with the head of the milk inspection service under whose jurisdiction the milk of such dairy is sold, the milk produced on said dairy shall not be degraded or excluded from the market until after a third score has been made by the said duly authorized representative of said milk inspection service jointly with a duly authorized representative of the Department of Agriculture of the State of California who shall concur in said rescore.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, to sell, or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, in any city, county or city and county or any combination of cities and counties in which a milk inspection service, approved by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California has been established any market milk other than graded milk as provided in this act. Unsanitary Creameries.—(a) Any creamery, factory, or building in which dairy products of any kind are manufactured, or any store, salesroom, or depot, or other place where milk or any product of milk is handled or kept for sale, shall, among other causes so classified by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act in the following cases:

(1) If milk or cream is received that has reached an advanced stage of fermentation, or that shows a state of putrefactive fermentation, or contains foreign substances detrimental to the quality of the manufactured product.

(2) If the utensils and apparatus that come in contact with milk or its products are not thoroughly washed and sterilized by means of boiling water or superheated steam or other means equally effective and acceptable to the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, after each using, and if the cans or containers in which the milk or cream is received, transported or delivered are not thoroughly washed, sterilized and dried after emptying and before being sent out to be used again.

(3) If the floor is so constructed as to permit the flowing of water, milk or other liquids underneath or among the interstices of such floor, where fermentation and decay can take place, or if such floor can not be readily kept free from dirt.

(4) If drains are not provided that will convey refuse milk, water and sewage away to a point at least fifty yards distant from such creamery or factory of dairy products or if any cesspool, privy vault, hog yard, slaughterhouse, manure or any decaying vegetable or animal matter shall be so located as to permit foul odors to reach any such creamery or other factory of dairy products or storeroom or depot where milk or its products are sold or handled; of if the water supply of the plant is subject to pollution with sewage or contamination with pathogenic bacteria unless said water be subjected to efficient chlorination or otherwise treated to make it safe for use in connection with the manufacture of food products.

(5) If such creamery or factory of dairy products does not permit access of light and air sufficient to secure good ventilation.

(6) If in any building or buildings used in connection with any creamery, or factory of dairy products, any insects or other species of animal life are permitted, or if upon the floor or walls any milk or its products or any filth is allowed to accumulate or ferment, or decay, or if the bodies or wearing apparel of persons employed, or coming in contact with any milk or its products in any creamery, or factory of any dairy products, are unclean and not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency, or if suitable toilet and lavatory facilities and clean towels are not provided for employees.

(b) The score cards used for the official scoring of factories of dairy products shall be those established by the regulations adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California as provided for in section 21 of this act. (Supp. 1925, G. L., Act 1945, § 14, as amended L. 1927, c. 817.)

241. Pasteurization; Apparatus; Unlawful Sales.—(a) The process of pasteurization, as applied to milk, skim milk, cream and other milk products, is hereby defined to be a process for the elimination therefrom of organisms harmful to human beings, which process shall consist of uniformly heating such milk, skim milk or cream, as the case may be, to a temperature of not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit and of holding the same at a temperature between one hundred forty and one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit for a period of not less than thirty minutes, nor more than one and one-half hours, and immediately thereafter cooling the same to a temperature of not above fifty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that when cream is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of butter, or when milk is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of cheese, and where the process of ripening or starting in each case is to be commenced immediately, then it shall not be required that such cream or milk be cooled to a lower degree than necessary for such ripening or starting; and provided, further, that modification of this method may be practiced when approved in writing by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California after due investigation of the efficiency of such method. Milk or skim milk or cream that is to be used in the manufacture of butter or cheese may be pasteurized by heating above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit and when the same is uniformly heated to and held at a temperature above one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit, the time for holding may be decreased from thirty minutes by one minute for each degree of temperature above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit. If milk is repasteurized it must not be sold as market milk.

(b) All apparatus used for the pasteurization of milk, skim milk or cream shall be kept in strictly clean and sanitary condition and every pasteurizing plant shall be equipped with sufficient recording thermometer devices to accurately record the temperature to which and the length of time for which the pasteurized product has been heated.

All recording thermometer devices used in the pasteurization of any milk, skim milk or cream must be of a type approved by, and the use thereof must at all times be subject to the approval of, the Department of Agriculture of the State of California. All persons, firms, corporations or associations using pasteurizing apparatus within the State of California shall date, preserve and keep on file for a period of not less than two months after the same are made, all records made by such thermometer, or in lieu of such preservation may deliver such records to any public officer authorized by law or ordinance to receive the same, and said records shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of the said Department of Agriculture, State Board of Health, and of all other State, county and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances respecting dairy products or the public health.

(c) No person, firm, corporation or association shall sell, exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange, or have in its possession for sale or exchange any milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other products of milk as and for pasteurized milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other products of milk, as the case may be, nor use the word "pasteurized," or any of its derivatives in connection with the sale, designation, advertising, labeling or billing of any milk, cream, skim milk, ice cream, butter, buttermilk, cheese or other milk products, unless the same and all products of milk contained therein or used in the manufacture thereof consist exclusively of milk, skim milk or cream which has been treated by the process of pasteurization as defined and regulated in this section. (G. L. 1923, Act 1945, § 15, as amended L. 1927, c. 817.)

242. Factory Licenses.—(a) Every person, firm, corporation or association, before regularly engaging in the business of dealing in, receiving, manufacturing, freezing or processing milk or any product of milk shall obtain a license to do so for each separate plant or place of business from the Department of Agriculture of the State of California; provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to retailers dealing in finished products received from a distributor or producer in final form. Upon receipt of an application for such license, the said Department of Agriculture shall investigate the equipment and the sanitary condition of the plant where milk or the products of milk are to be received, processed, frozen or manufactured, and provide the applicant with a copy of the dairy laws of the State of California. If the condition of the plant is found to be satisfactory, a "factory license" shall be issued by said Department of Agriculture to such applicant upon receipt of a license fee of ten dollars, except that every person, firm, corporation or association engaged in the business of dealing in, receiving, manufacturing, freezing or processing ice cream, ice milk and all similar frozen products shall be required to pay annually a minimum factory license fee of twenty-five dollars for the manufacture of fifty thousand gallons or fraction thereof per year, and for each additional ten thousand gallons or fraction thereof manufactured per year, said applicant shall pay an additional license fee of one dollar. All factory licenses herein required shall expire at the end of each calendar year; provided, that such license shall remain in full force and effect during the month of January of the next succeeding year or such part thereof as may be necessary for the renewal of said license by said Department of Agriculture. All licenses may be renewed each successive year provided that the plant for which previous license was issued or the business thereof shall have been conducted in accordance with the requirements of this act during the year next preceding that for which renewal is requested. The fee for the renewal of such license (except for ice cream, ice milk and all similar frozen products, which shall be as hereinbefore provided) shall be one dollar for each one hundred thousand pounds of milk fat or part thereof, or each four hundred thousand gallons of milk or part thereof, purchased or received during the preceding year, ending the thirty-first day of December; provided, in no case shall the renewal fee exceed ten dollars except for ice cream, ice milk and all similar frozen products which shall be as hereinbefore provided. The correct amount of the fee for the renewal of said license shall be forwarded with said application for its renewal. Any factory license may be suspended or revoked by the said Department of Agriculture for violation of any of the provisions of this act, or for violation of any of the rules and regulations promulgated for its enforcement as provided in section 21 of this act.

(b) All persons who shall test milk or cream, purchased, received or sold on the basis of the milk fat contained therein must first obtain and hold a license to do so from the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, said license to be known as a "tester's license." Any method or process which gives accurate results may be used; provided, that all glassware and other apparatus must be examined for accuracy and the procedure be approved by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California; and provided, further, that a tester's license must be obtained for each method or process used. The said Department of Agriculture upon receipt of an application for such license, shall examine into the qualifications of the applicant and every applicant shall satisfy said Department of Agriculture of his qualifications, and shall have a thorough knowledge of the provisions of the law with which he must comply and pay a fee of five dollars before any such license shall be issued. Said applicant shall state the method of testing to be used by the applicant, which method must be approved by said Department of Agriculture of the State of California before a license may be issued. All such licenses shall expire with the thirty-first day of December of each year and may be renewed within thirty days prior to expiration upon filing application for such renewal and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar; provided, all requirements of the law and regulations pertaining to the work of the licensee have been observed. Any "tester's license" may be suspended or revoked by the said Department of Agriculture for violation, by the holder thereof, of any of the provisions of this act, or any of the rules and regulations for its enforcement, promulgated as provided in section 21 of this act.

(c) All persons, other than licensed testers, who shall take samples of milk or cream purchased, received or sold on the basis of the milk fat contained therein, on which sample tests are to be made as a basis of payment, and all persons who shall make weighings of milk or cream, the weights thus obtained to be used as a basis of payment, must first obtain and hold a license to do so from the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, said license to be known as a "sampler's and weigher's license;" provided, that when the same person does both the sampling and weighing only one license shall be required; and provided, further, that in case of emergency a person may weigh or sample for a period not exceeding one week before making application for a license. The said Department of Agriculture upon receipt of an application for such license shall examine into the qualifications of the applicant, and every applicant shall satisfy said Department of Agriculture of his qualifications and shall have a thorough knowledge of the provisions of the law with which he must comply and pay a fee of one dollar before any such license shall be issued. All such licenses shall expire with the thirty-first day of December of each year and may be renewed within thirty days prior to expiration upon filing application for such renewal and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar; provided, all requirements of the law and regulations pertaining to the work of the licensee have been observed. Any "sampler's and weigher's license" may be suspended or revoked by the said Department of Agriculture for violation, by the holder thereof, of any of the provisions of this act, or of any of the rules and regulations for its enforcement, promulgated as provided in section 21 of this act.

Any person who shall take samples of milk or cream for testing shall be required to hold the same in an unchanged condition until delivered to a licensed tester.

(d) All persons who shall make bacteriological determinations upon milk or cream which determinations are used as a basis of payment or determining value must first obtain and hold a license to do so from the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, said license to be known as a "technician's license." The Department of Agriculture upon receipt of an application for such license shall examine into the qualifications of the applicant. Upon successfully passing the required examination and the payment of a fee of five dollars a license shall be issued to said applicant. All such licenses shall expire with the thirty-first day of December of each year and may be renewed within thirty days prior to expiration upon filing application for such renewal and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar; provided, all requirements of the law and regulations pertaining to the work of the licensee have been observed. Any "technician's license" may be suspended or revoked by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California for violation, by the holder thereof, of any of the provisions of this act, or of any of the rules and regulations promulgated as provided in section 21 of this act. (Supp. 1925, G. L., Act 1945, § 16, as amended L. 1927, c. 817.)

242a. Dairy Produce Exchange.—(a) For the purposes of this act, a dairy produce exchange shall be deemed to be any association of persons, firms, corporations and/or associations organized for the purpose of furnishing a medium for trading in butter, cheese or eggs, to facilitate the marketing of said products, or to establish their wholesale market value.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to establish or operate a dairy produce exchange without first obtaining from the Director of Agriculture a license to do so.

(c) Every dairy produce exchange within the expiration of ninety days from and after the effective date of this act, and any person, firm, association or corporation thereafter desiring to operate a dairy produce exchange, and before engaging in such activity, shall file with the Director of Agriculture a written application for a license, which application shall be accompanied by the license fee of one hundred dollars, and shall state or include the following information:

(3) The names of its officers, directors, and the persons, firms, corporations and/or associations constituting its membership.

(4) A certified copy of its articles of incorporation, its constitution and by-laws, and the rules and regulations and bases of trade under which it proposes to operate.

(d) It shall be the duty of the Director of Agriculture to examine the application, and if he finds that the applicant has fully complied with the provisions of this act, he shall issue to said applicant a license authorizing it to operate such a dairy produce exchange. Said license shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the rules and regulations or bases of trade under which said applicant proposes to operate.

(e) The Director of Agriculture may upon his own motion and shall, upon the verified complaint in writing of any person, investigate the actions of any dairy produce exchange as defined by this act, and shall have the power to temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act whenever the holder thereof is guilty of:

1. Failing to supply all the information required by the provisions of subdivisions 1, 2, 3, and 4 of subsection (c) of this section.

2. Making any false statements or misrepresentations of facts to the Director of Agriculture.

(f) Before suspending or revoking any license the said Director of Agriculture shall notify in writing the applicant or holder of such license of the charges against him or it, and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto.

(g) Every order, decision or other official act of the Director of Agriculture, including every decision suspending or revoking any license under this act, shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of chapter I of title I of part III of the Code of Civil Procedure, and any party aggrieved by any such order, or decision of the Director of Agriculture may, within thirty days from date of written notice of said decision or order, appeal therefrom to the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county in which the said dairy produce exchange affected by such decision has its place of business, under the terms of this act by serving upon the Director of Agriculture a notice of such appeal and a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision and all the evidence taken on the hearing. Thereupon the said Director of Agriculture shall, within thirty days upon payment of the costs therefor by the appealing party, make and certify such transcript. The applicant shall, within fifteen days after receiving the same, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of said appeal the burden of proof shall lie upon the party appealing and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the Director of Agriculture from which the appeal is taken.

(h) In the event of the suspension or revocation of any license the decision of the Director of Agriculture shall not take effect until thirty days after its date. In the event of an appeal from the decision of the Director of Agriculture to any court of competent jurisdiction in the State of California, the decision of the Director of Agriculture shall remain in effect pending the determination of such appeal, unless the party appealing and aggrieved by such decision of the Director of Agriculture shall file with said court a bond in a sum to be fixed by said court, which bond shall be in favor of the people of the State of California, and be conditioned upon the faithful performance of all those things which are ordered to be done, or the faithful observance of such restraint as may be directed by the Director of Agriculture. Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person having dealings with such appellant, and any such person so dealing with the same shall have the right to commence a suit thereon in his own name against appellant and his sureties.

(i) (1) The Director of Agriculture shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts and to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers. In any hearing in any part of the State, the process issued by the Director of Agriculture shall extend to all parts of the State, and may be served by any person authorized to serve process of courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the Director of Agriculture. The person serving any process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the Director of Agriculture, not to exceed fees prescribed by law for similar service, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the payment of fees of witnesses.

(2) Each witness who shall appear by order of the Director of Agriculture shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpœnaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpœnaed by the Director of Agriculture, his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds that the Director of Agriculture may accumulate out of fees to be obtained from applicants for licenses.

(j) (1) The Superior Court, in and for the county in which any hearing may be held by the Director of Agriculture, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of books and papers as required by any subpœna issued by the Director of Agriculture. In case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpœnas, the Director of Agriculture may report to the Superior Court, in and for the county in which the hearing is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been examined in the manner prescribed in this act, or that the witness has failed or refused to attend or produce the papers required by subpœna before the Director of Agriculture, in the cause of proceeding named in the subpœna, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such hearing, and ask an order of said court compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the Director of Agriculture.

(2) The court, upon petition of the Director of Agriculture, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, but the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended or testified or produced said papers before the said Director of Agriculture. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpœna was regularly issued by the Director of Agriculture and duly served, and if it shall appear that said testimony and/or said books or papers are relevant, material and pertinent to the hearing being held by the said Director of Agriculture, then the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the Director of Agriculture at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

(k) The Director of Agriculture may, upon his own motion or upon application of the complainant or the licensee in any hearing before him cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the State to be taken, in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil cases in the Superior Courts of this State, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers.

(l) For each license the Director of Agriculture shall charge the sum of one hundred dollars, which said sum must accompany the application for the said license.

Except as otherwise provided herein each license issued by the Director of Agriculture shall continue in effect so long as the licensee shall continue in business, and shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars annually to the Director of Agriculture, such fee being payable on the first Monday of each calendar year.

(m) The Director of Agriculture may require such monthly or other periodical reports, records of market quotations and other statistical information as may be necessary to him in administering this act, and all such reports, statistics or information pertinent to each licensee shall be kept on file in the office of the Director of Agriculture and subject to public inspection.

(n) The Director of Agriculture shall have access to all records of every licensed dairy produce exchange, and may appoint a representative to sit with the Board of Directors or other governing body of such exchange.

(o) The Director of Agriculture or his duly authorized representative shall act as arbitrator in all cases of dispute or contention concerning the maintenance or operation of any licensed dairy produce exchange, or the by-laws, rules or regulations pertaining thereto. Upon receipt of any verified complaint concerning a licensed dairy produce exchange the Director of Agriculture or his duly authorized representative shall proceed to make a thorough investigation. In this connection he may conduct hearings, of which all interested parties shall receive due notice, and may require written submittals setting forth the views of any or all contending parties. In this connection he shall invite the co-operation and solicit the opinion of the Federal Trade Commission and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. On the basis of the information so obtained the director shall prescribe a tentative rule which shall be effective in the operation of any licensed dairy produce exchange for a period not to exceed ninety days. If after such trial period it shall appear that said tentative rule operates in a fair and equitable manner, it shall then upon order of the Director of Agriculture, be made a permanent rule of said licensed dairy produce exchange. If in the conduct of any such investigation it shall appear that any unlawful act or acts shall have been committed by any licensed dairy produce exchange the Director of Agriculture may initiate appropriate legal proceedings against such licensee. Any person, firm or corporation who or which shall operate a dairy produce exchange without a license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall also be liable to pay to the State of California the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every day of such operation; said moneys to be recovered by an action at law brought by the Attorney-General in the name of the people of the State of California. Any person who shall make any false statement in applying for a license or shall violate any rule or decision of the Director of Agriculture authorized by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (G. L. 1923, Act 1945, § 16½ as added L. 1927, c. 850.)

243. Weighing and Sampling; Records.—(a) No person, firm, corporation or association shall fraudulently manipulate the measure or weight or underread or overread or otherwise manipulate any test used for determining the grade or quality of milk or cream, or the per cent of milk fat in milk or cream, nor take an unfair sample of milk or cream on which a test is to be made, nor fraudulently manipulate such samples, or the records of any measurement, weight, or test, or combination thereof. A permanent record in duplicate of all tests of milk or cream purchased, received, or sold, on the basis of the amount of milk fat contained therein, must be made by a tester, licensed by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, on standard forms supplied by, or in accordance with the specifications for such records, adopted by the said Department of Agriculture. Each test shall be legibly recorded with indelible pencil or ink and shall be accompanied by the patron's name or number in such a manner as to correctly identify the test obtained upon the milk or cream of each patron. Each sheet or page shall be authenticated by the signature of the tester licensed by the said Department of Agriculture, and a duplicate record shall be deposited by said licensed tester immediately after completing the test on the day's samples, in a box provided by the purchaser or receiver or seller of milk or cream, as the case may be, said box to be constructed, sealed and maintained in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated as provided in section 21 of this act. The original record shall be immediately delivered to the purchaser or receiver or seller of said milk or cream, who shall retain said original record for a period of at least three months. The said licensed tester shall retain an unmodified sample of all milk or cream tested by him for a period of not less than forty-eight hours after tests of said milk or cream have been made and said purchaser or receiver or seller of milk or cream shall provide a suitable place where such samples so retained may be kept and such place shall be acceptable to the said Department of Agriculture. When payment for milk or cream is made on the basis of the milk fat contained therein, samples shall be taken from each lot of said milk or cream upon delivery, and payment shall be made in accordance with the percentage of milk fat actually found in said samples; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit weighing and sampling on a route; and provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the use of composite samples of milk.

(b) In conducting the Babcock test, the milk fat column in tests on milk, in milk test bottles, shall be read from the extreme bottom of the fat column to the top of the top meniscus. In tests on cream in cream test bottles the meniscus at the top of the milk fat column shall be destroyed by the use of an overlying foreign oil approved by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, and the milk fat column shall be read from the extreme bottom of the fat column to the plane of separation between the fat column and the overlying foreign oil. The reading of the test shall be made when the temperature of the milk is between one hundred thirty and one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit.

(c) No person shall knowingly render any statement or bill showing the weight, grade, percentage of fat, amount of fat, price, or total amount paid, which shall be false, deceptive or misleading in any particular.

(d) All measuring glassware, weights or scales used by licensed testers or licensed technicians shall be accurate. All glassware shall be examined by the Department of Agriculture of the State of California and if found to be accurate, each piece shall have a legible or indelible distinguishing mark placed upon it by the said Department of Agriculture. All Babcock glassware and scales shall comply with the following specifications:

(1) Milk test bottle. The total per cent graduation shall be eight. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than sixty-three and five-tenths millimeters and the graduation shall represent whole per cent, five-tenths per cent and tenths per cent. The error in the total graduation or in any part thereof shall not exceed one-tenth of one per cent. The neck shall be cylindrical for at least five millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark.

(2) Fifty per cent nine gram long-neck cream test bottle. The total per cent graduation shall be fifty. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than one hundred twenty millimeters. The graduation shall represent five per cent, one per cent and five-tenths per cent. The cylindrical part of the neck shall extend at least five millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. Each bottle shall bear at the top of the neck above the graduations, in plain legible characters, a mark defining the weight of the charge to be used—nine grams. The error in the total graduation or in any part thereof, shall not exceed twenty-five hundredths of one per cent.

(3) Fifty per cent eighteen gram long-neck cream-test bottle. The total per cent graduation shall be fifty. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than one hundred twenty millimeters. The graduation shall represent five per cent, one per cent and five-tenths per cent. The cylindrical part of the neck shall extend at least five millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. Each bottle shall bear at the top of the neck above the graduations, in plain legible characters a mark defining the weight of the charge to be used—eighteen grams. The error in the total graduation or in any part thereof shall not exceed twenty-five hundredths of one per cent.

(4) Seventeen and six-tenths milliliter pipette. The delivery tube shall have a length of one hundred to one hundred twenty millimeters and an outside diameter between four and five-tenths and five and five-tenths millimeters, and a straight nozzle. The pipette shall contain seventeen and six-tenths milliliters of water at twenty degrees centigrade, when the bottom of the meniscus coincides with the mark on the suction tube. The error in the graduation shall not exceed five one-hundredths of a milliliter.

(5) Scales or balance. The scales or balance used in weighing cream samples into the test bottles shall have a sensibility of not more than thirty milligrams.

(e) A fee of one dollar shall be paid by the owner of said glassware to the Department of Agriculture of the State of California for every dozen pieces of Babcock glassware examined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section. The said department shall charge fees for examining glassware and apparatus used in methods of testing other than the Babcock test, which fees shall be sufficient to cover the actual cost of such examination. (Supp. 1925, G. L., Act 1945, § 17, as amended L. 1927, c. 817.)

244. Containers to be Kept Sanitary and in Good Condition.—(a) Every person, firm, corporation or association, not a common carrier, who receives from a private or common carrier in cans, bottles, vessels or other containers, any milk, cream, ice cream, or other product of milk intended for human consumption, which has been transported over any railroad, or boat, or freight line, or by other common or private carrier, which said cans, bottles, vessels or other containers, are to be returned to the manufacturer, distributor, consignor or shipper, shall cause the said empty cans, bottles, vessels or other containers to be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam before return shipment of the same, and every private or common carrier before accepting such cans or containers to be returned to the manufacturer or distributor shall require that each container be plainly marked with the name and address of the person returning same. All milk bottles, cans or containers of any kind in which milk or any product of milk is kept, stored, transported or delivered shall be sound, smooth, free from rust or open seams, and at all times kept in a condition which will permit thorough cleansing of all surfaces with which the milk or its products come in contact. Bottles, cans, tubs, cabinets, containers or other receptacles, commonly used for the reception, storage or delivery of milk, cream, ice cream or other products of milk shall not be used as a receptacle for, or storage place of, any vegetables, fish, fowls, meats, other foodstuffs, or refuse matter, bottles, or filthy or offensive substance, or for any other purpose than that for which they were originally intended. All empty cans, bottles, vessels or other containers delivered to the producer by the manufacturer, retailer, or distributor for the reception of milk or any product of milk shall be kept by said producer in a clean, sanitary, sterile condition and shall be used for no other purpose whatsoever. All empty cans, bottles, vessels or other containers delivered to the consumer by retailer or distributor shall be thoroughly cleansed before returning the same to the retailer or distributor.

(b) Any person, firm, corporation or association engaged in receiving, producing, manufacturing, packing, canning, bottling, handling or selling milk or any product of milk in containers marked or otherwise identified with the name or names of such person, firm, corporation or association, or with any fictitious or other name or word or words or with any mark or device whatsoever, may file with the Department of Agriculture of the State of California a description of the name or names, or word or words, or mark or device so used, and an application for registration of the same as a brand, which application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars. The applicant shall also cause such description to be printed once a week for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in the locality or localities in which said applicant shall be engaged in business. The Department of Agriculture of the State of California may refuse to register a brand when it appears that the same or a similar brand has been previously registered by another; and whenever it appears that two or more applicants have applied for the registration of the same or similar brands, the Director of Agriculture may after hearing determine the right of prior ownership in such brand; and when such right of prior ownership is determined the Director of Agriculture shall refuse to register, or shall cancel the registration of, any duplicate or similar brand. Any person, firm, corporation or association acquiring any container marked with a brand registered under the provisions of this section, by purchase or by other lawful means, shall so notify the Department of Agriculture of the State of California, and shall not thereafter be required again to file and publish said description, but may acquire as a part of said purchase all such benefit as the vendor had under this act. It shall be the duty of every person who finds or receives in the regular course of business or in any other manner any container marked with a brand registered under the provisions of this section to make diligent effort to find the owner thereof and to restore or return the same. (G. L. 1923, Act 1945, § 18, as amended L. 1927, c. 817.)

Any manufacturer, jobber, importer, firm, association, corporation or person who shall mix or adulterate any feeding stuffs with any substance or substances injurious to the health of live stock or poultry shall be deemed guilty of a violation of the provisions of this act, and in addition to the penalty provided in this section, the lot of feeding stuffs shall be subject to seizure, condemnation and sale as the court may direct. Both said guaranties to afford protection must contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sales of such commercial feeding stuffs to said dealer. If the guaranty be to the effect that such commercial feeding stuffs are not adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of the national pure food act, approved June 30, 1906, it shall be sufficient for the purposes of this act and have the same force and effect as though it referred to this act, except that a guaranty referring to the said national pure food act alone shall not be sufficient for the purposes of this act in any case where at any time the standard for the commercial feeding stuffs concerned under this act is higher than the standard for like commercial feeding stuffs under said national pure food act. In case the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party making such guaranty to said dealer resides without this State and it appears from the certificate of the Director of the State Laboratory that such commercial feeding stuffs were adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, within the meaning of this act or the national pure food act, approved June 30, 1906, the district attorney must forthwith notify the Attorney General of the United States of such violation. A "person" shall be deemed to include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations or their agents or employees. A "retail dealer," "peddler," or "huckster," is one engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish direct to the consumer. A "wholesale dealer" is one who sells fresh food fish to hotels, restaurants, railroads, steamships, hospitals, institutions and all others than the consumer, and especially to retail dealers for resale. A "fish buyer" or "fish broker" is one engaged in the business of buying or selling fresh food fish for the owner or consignee, or who, without an established place of business, buys from the fishermen for the purpose of reselling to others than the consumer. When the singular is used the plural is also included; whenever the masculine is used the feminine and neuter are included. (Id. § 3.)

(b) The Director of Agriculture is hereby vested with jurisdiction to open and conduct where, when and for so long as he deems it advisable, State markets for the buying and selling of fresh food fish, and to rent, lease or purchase plants and equipment necessary for the same, and to use so much of the funds placed at the disposal of the State Market Director by the act creating the State commission market, approved June 10, 1915,* or in the event of the repeal of said act, by the State Market Commission Act, as may be required in establishing and conducting said markets.

(c) The Director of Agriculture is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act. First—To be paid to those engaged in catching such fish for sale.

Second—To be paid to those engaged in the wholesale fish business.

Third—To be charged to the consumer by retail fish dealers, peddlers or hucksters; and said prices shall be such as will allow, in the judgment of the Director of Agriculture, a reasonable compensation or profit to those engaged in the catching or selling of such fish.

(b) The Director of Agriculture may, at his discretion, from time to time make such changes or withdrawals in the prices authorized in section 6 (a) hereof, as he may deem necessary.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish in a particular locality to charge more than the maximum prices authorized for such locality, as provided in section 6 (a) hereof. (d) In the exercise of powers under this act, the Director of Agriculture may confer with parties interested with a view of securing their advice and counsel as to maximum prices to be paid and charged. (Id. § 6.)

313. Destruction or Diversion of Food Fish; Consent Thereto; Exceptions.—It shall be unlawful for any one to destroy, or cause or permit to be destroyed any food fish in excess of fifty pounds within one day of twenty-four hours or to divert, or cause or permit to be diverted any food fish to any use other than human consumption, without having first obtained the written consent of the Director of Agriculture to such destruction or diversion. Consent to such destruction or diversion shall be given only where the applicant establishes to the satisfaction of the Director of Agriculture that such destruction or diversion is not for the purpose of influencing prices and that reasonable efforts have been made to induce its consumption by the public. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply:

To the use of food fish by fishermen as bait in the customary manner, or to food fish in the possession of canners, curers or packers and which are not suitable for their use and which in consequence are destroyed or diverted to use other than human consumption. (Id. § 7.)

314. When Excessive Supply of Fish Reaches Market.—In the event of a supply of fresh food fish reaching any market, which supply in the judgment of the Director of Agriculture is excessive or abnormal:

(a) It shall be the duty of the Director of Agriculture, in his discretion, to use every means at his command to induce its consumption by the public, including reduction in prices thereon and increased publicity, as hereinafter provided for.

(b) It shall be obligatory on the part of market fishermen and wholesale fish dealers, who find themselves possessed of an excessive supply, to notify the Director of Agriculture of the fact, and failure to give such notice shall be sufficient grounds for the suspension for a period not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the Director of Agriculture, of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(c) The Director of Agriculture may, at his option, use the moneys of the State Fish Exchange fund hereinafter provided for, in purchasing any part or all of an excess of food fish over the amount that can be sold through ordinary channels, and to place same in cold storage, and to resell same to any or all buyers, and any loss or profit in such transactions shall be charged or credited to the State Fish Exchange fund. (Id. § 8.)

315. Licenses; Fees.—Every person, individual, partnership, association or corporation, other than market fishermen, engaged in the business of buying and selling fish for consumption in its fresh condition, shall pay to the State an annual license fee, as follows:

When gross receipts for one year are:

Not in excess of fifty thousand dollars, fifty dollars.

Between fifty thousand dollars and one hundred thousand dollars, seventy-five dollars.

Between one hundred thousand dollars and two hundred thousand dollars, one hundred dollars.

Between four hundred thousand dollars and six hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars.

More than six hundred thousand dollars, two hundred fifty dollars.

Seventh—All branch houses of wholesale dealers—that is, wholesale dealers operating more than one wholesale establishment—for each branch house, five dollars.

Fees payable by wholesale dealers under paragraph sixth of this section as above, shall be due and payable in advance, and shall be based on the applicant's sworn statement as to his gross receipts from the sale of food fish sold for human consumption in its fresh condition, using the preceding year as a basis. If the applicant did no wholesale business during said preceding year, a license shall be issued upon payment of a fee of fifty dollars and the execution of a good and satisfactory bond by the applicant to the Director of Agriculture, guaranteeing the payment of such additional amount as will make the total payable on his actual business during such period equal to the license fee fixed in said paragraph sixth of this section. If the amount of actual sales of any such dealer for any annual period, for which he has paid license fees in advance, shall be greater or less than the amount on which such license fee was based, he shall at the end of such period, be charged with and shall pay to the State such additional amount as would be due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph sixth hereof, if the amount of actual sales be greater than the amount on which license fee was paid; or if the actual sales be less than such amount for any such annual period, he shall, at the end thereof, be credited with the difference between the license fee paid in advance and the fee that would have been due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph sixth hereof; but such credit shall be made only on further license fees that may be payable by any such dealer. (Id. § 9.)

316. Period of Licenses; Proportionate Charge for Portion of Annual Period.—All licenses provided for in this act shall be paid in advance and shall terminate with June thirtieth, following the date of issue. A separate license shall be required for each place of business from persons owning or operating more than one establishment, except that the sale of fish from a vehicle by the holder of an exclusive retail fish dealer's license shall not require a peddler's license. Persons doing both a wholesale and retail business shall be required to take out both wholesale and retail licenses unless the total receipts of any such person amount to less than ten thousand dollars per annum, and any such person having total receipts of less than ten thousand dollars per annum shall be considered a retail dealer for licenses hereunder. The State Fish Exchange shall have an executive officer who shall execute a bond to the people of the State of California in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The Director of Agriculture shall have authority, subject to the State Civil Service Act, to appoint all employees, including attorneys, of the State Fish Exchange necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and shall fix their compensation and such employees so appointed shall have all the powers and authority of sheriffs and other peace officers for the purpose of enforcing this act. 324. State Fish Exchange Fund.—There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "State Fish Exchange Fund." On or before the tenth day of each month the State Fish Exchange shall remit to the State treasury all moneys collected by said exchange under this act, during the preceding month. All such remittances shall be placed to the credit of the State Fish Exchange Fund and said fund shall be kept separate and apart from other State moneys. All expenses of whatsoever nature incurred by said exchange pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses of its employees incurred while on business of the exchange and including the premium and charge for bonds given by surety companies for employees of the exchange when required by the Director of Agriculture or by the provisions hereof, shall be paid from the said fund, after approval of the Director of Agriculture, upon claims to be audited by the State Board of Control, except as provided in section 19 of this act. (Id. § 18.)

325. Revolving Fund.—A revolving fund of five hundred dollars shall be established by the State Board of Control out of the State Fish Exchange Fund for expenses of the State Fish Exchange, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the Director of Agriculture may expend such revolving fund, without first procuring the authority of the Board of Control, but shall file vouchers therefor monthly with the Board of Control. (Id. § 19.)

326. Payments to Fund.—A sum equaling five per cent of the gross receipts of the State Fish Exchange shall be paid out of the State Fish Exchange Fund,

327. Educational and Publicity Campaigns.—Any surplus over and above the expenditures of the State Fish Exchange in the State Fish Exchange Fund shall be expended by said exchange, under the direction of the Director of Agriculture, in educational and publicity campaigns for the purposes of increasing the consumption of fresh food fish, and of enabling the public to obtain fish at reasonable prices. (Id. § 21.)

329. License Suspended or Revoked.—Any license issued under the authority of this act may be suspended or revoked by the Director of Agriculture in his discretion, as herein provided, or upon evidence that the holder thereof has been or is a violator of the provisions of section 6 of this act, authorizing the fixing of maximum prices on fish, or of the fish and game laws of the State, as evidenced by conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction; or any such license may be suspended in the discretion of the State Director of Agriculture for a period not to exceed thirty days for any violation of the rules and regulations provided for in section 17. Such suspension or revocation shall be made only after due notice of such intention has been given the offender and an opportunity given him to rebut the charge at a formal hearing by the Director of Agriculture, at which hearing the accused shall be entitled to be represented by attorney. (Id. § 23.)

330. Statement of Fish Caught.—The Director of Agriculture may require from any person engaged in marketing fish a written statement as to the amount and varieties of fish caught, or on hand, or sold by said person. Failure to furnish such statement on demand shall be good and sufficient grounds for the suspension of license issued under the provisions of this act, at the discretion of the Director of Agriculture, for a period not exceeding thirty days. (Id. § 24.)

332. Investigations; Subpœnas.—(a) The Director of Agriculture may make investigations concerning all matters relating to the provisions of this act. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect the books and records of any person engaged in marketing fish, and the Director of Agriculture is hereby empowered to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the State.

(b) The Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the Director of Agriculture, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpœna issued by the Director of Agriculture. The court, upon petition of the Director of Agriculture, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the Director of Agriculture. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpœna was regularly issued by the Director of Agriculture, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the Director of Agriculture at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. (Id. § 26.)

387b. Standards Established.—To promote the development of the California fruit, nut and vegetable industry, and to prevent deception in the packing, marking, shipping or sale of fruits, nuts and vegetables for State, interstate or foreign commerce, there are hereby created and established certain standards and standard containers for apricots, avocados, berries, cherries, citrus fruits, dates, grapes, peaches, pears, oriental persimmons, plums and fresh prunes, "Wonderful" pomegranates, quinces, walnuts, artichokes, cantaloupes, carrots, head lettuce, melons, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. (Id. § 2.)

387c. The Director of Agriculture shall have supervision and control over all enforcing officers of this act in the State of California. The refusal of any officer duly authorized under this act to carry out the orders and directions of the Director of Agriculture in the enforcement of this act shall be deemed neglect of duty.

The horticultural commissioner of each county, and his deputies and inspectors, shall be, by virtue of their office, inspectors of fruits, nuts and vegetables under this act in their respective counties. (Id. § 3.)

387d. Enforcing Officers; Duties and Powers.—All enforcing officers under the provisions of this act shall have power to enter and to inspect every place or vehicle, within the county or district for which they have been appointed, where any fruits, nuts or vegetables are produced, stored, packed, delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, being transported, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits, nuts and vegetables, and the containers thereof and equipment found in any such places, or in vehicles when being transported.

It shall be the duty of all enforcing officers mentioned in this act to carry out the provisions of this act in their respective counties or districts, and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, company, corporation or organization whom they know or have reason to believe to be guilty of violating any of its provisions. Any enforcing officer in the performance of his duties shall have the same powers possessed by other peace officers of the city, county, or State, and shall have the right, while exercising such police powers, to seize and hold as evidence such part of any pack, load, lot, consignment or shipment of fruits, nuts or vegetables packed, delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this act. (Id. § 4.)

387e. Prosecution of Offenders.—It shall be the duty of the district attorney of such county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the Director of Agriculture or his duly authorized agents, to institute and prosecute such action as may be authorized under the provisions of this act. (Id. § 5.)

387f. Additional Grades and Rules.—The Director of Agriculture is hereby empowered to define, promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which shall not conflict with any provided for in this act.

The Director of Agriculture is hereby empowered to establish and enforce such additional grades, grading rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary on fruits, nuts or vegetables, including those which are not named in this act, which shall not conflict with any provided for in this act, after a thorough investigation has been made of the needs of the particular fruit, nut or vegetable for which grades grading rules and regulations are contemplated. Such grades, grading rules and regulations must, before they become effective, be approved in one or more public meetings attended by representative growers and shippers of the localities interested in the industry affected. Such meetings shall be advertised at least once in a newspaper published in such localities one week or more prior to the meetings; said meetings shall be presided over by the Director of Agriculture, or any of his duly authorized agents and shall, in so far as possible and practicable, be conducted at such place or places as can be conveniently reached by representatives of the affected industry. Grades, grading rules and regulations, established in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall not be modified during the current shipping season of the fruit, nut or vegetable for which they are established, excepting as hereinafter provided. In like manner the Director of Agriculture may provide for standard packages other than those established in this act, but no standard packages shall be eliminated or changed without two years' notice to the industry involved.

On receipt of a written appeal signed by at least twenty-five representative growers and shippers of the commodity for which grades, grading rules, regulations or standard packages have been established under the provisions of this section, protesting against the grades, grading rules, regulations or standard packages so established, the Director of Agriculture shall call a hearing within ten days after the receipt of such an appeal. Due notice shall be given by the Director of Agriculture to all interested parties of the date and place of such hearing and the grades, grading rules, regulations or standard packages shall be sustained, modified or revoked, in the discretion of the Director of Agriculture on the basis of the evidence presented. If such grades, grading rules, regulations or standard packages are not changed or modified by the Director of Agriculture, in accordance with the provisions of this section, they shall continue to be in full force and effect. Grades, grading rules, regulations and standard packages, established under the provisions of this section, shall be promulgated by the Director of Agriculture and published in one or more newspapers or farm journals of general circulation in the State of California.

The legislature hereby declares that the establishment by the Director of Agriculture of such additional standards, grading rules, regulations and standard packages as provided by this section, constitutes merely the necessary expert and technical definition of details, and is not considered by the legislature as a legislative act on the part of the Director of Agriculture. 387m. When Ungraded Products May be Sold.—No provision of this act, excepting as hereinafter provided in section 21, shall be construed to prevent a grower of fruits, nuts or vegetables in the State of California from selling or delivering the same unpacked and unmarked, as a part of his crop in bulk to a packer for grading, packing or storage; or to prevent a grower or packer from manufacturing the same into any by-product, or from selling the same unpacked and unmarked to any person, firm, company, organization or corporation actually engaged in the operation of a commercial by-products factory for the sole and express purpose of being used in the State of California in the manufacture of a by-product for resale. (Id. § 13.)

387n. Exemptions.—All fruits, nuts or vegetables of a kind specified in this act which are not wrapped or packed, and which are intended for use in the State of California in commercial processing, preserving or manufacture of by-products for resale, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act; excepting as hereinafter provided in section 21; provided, however, that the packages in which they are contained shall bear no false or misleading statements or designations; provided, further, that such fruits, nuts or vegetables shall not be deceptively packed or deceptively placed in any container.

Any inspector of fruits, nuts or vegetables may require from the owner and/or shipper of such fruits, nuts or vegetables such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used only in the State of California in commercial processing, preserving or manufacture of by-products for resale and shall hold same until satisfactory proof is given. Damage caused by scab or shot hole fungus, on any apricot, shall not be considered serious unless the spots total more than five in number, or cover an aggregate area of more than one-fourth inch in diameter. Damage caused by hail in any apricot shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent by weight of the fruit.

"Virtually uniform in size" shall mean in the case of packed apricots a variation of not more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross-section, between the fruits in any one container. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides. In the case of apricots packed in sloping side containers, the bottom layer shall contain a smaller numerical count than the top layer.

Markings. In addition to the markings required by section 9 of this act, all containers of fresh apricots, when packed, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of variety if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety," the net weight, and the approximate number of fruits in the container or subcontainer, which number shall be within four of the true count; provided, that in lieu of the approximate number of fruits the numerical description of pack may be used. Numerical description of pack shall describe the count of the top layer on two adjacent sides of the container or subcontainer. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container they shall be labeled "mixed varieties." Containers in which the fruit in the top layer only is placed in compact arrangement shall be labeled "face and fill" in lieu of the approximate number of fruits.

Damage to any avocado shall not be considered as serious unless it causes a waste of twenty per cent by weight of the fruit.

The percentage of serious defects in any bulk lot of avocados may be established by inspection of a representative sample, which shall consist of not less than one hundred fruits selected at random.

When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides.

Avocados shall not be considered mature when the edible portion shows an oil content of less than eight per cent, by weight, by chemical analysis.

Markings. In addition to the markings required by section 9 of this act, all containers of avocados, when packed, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety" or "unnamed variety," the net weight or average weight of fruits, and the number of fruits in the containers or subcontainer. Any strawberry which has not less than two-thirds of the surface showing pink or red color shall be considered mature.

"Virtually uniform in size" shall mean, in the case of face packed strawberries, a variation of not more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross-section, between the berries in any one subcontainer.

"Face packed" shall mean the regular arrangement of the top layer of strawberries in any container or subcontainer.

Markings. The markings required by section 9 of this act, in lieu of being plainly and conspicuously stamped, stenciled, printed, labeled or branded on one end of each crate or chest containing berries, may be shown on tags or labels placed on top of the fruit in each crate, slide or drawer.

Markings. The markings required by section 9 of this act, in lieu of being plainly and conspicuously stamped, stenciled, printed, labeled or branded on one end of each crate or chest containing berries, may be shown on tags or labels placed on top of the fruit in each crate, slide or drawer.

387s. Cherries.—Cherries when being packed or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container, or subcontainer, shall conform to the following standard:

Standard for Cherries. Cherries shall be mature but not overripe, not abnormally soft, wrinkled, shriveled or spongy, not stemless or wet, and shall be free from soft bruises, unhealed growth cracks or splits, cuts, bird pecks or other skin breaks, insect injury, aphis honey dew, mold, brown rot, decay and from serious damage caused by sunburn or doubles, and in the case of packed cherries shall be virtually uniform in size; provided, that not more than ten per cent, by count, of the cherries in any one container may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Damage caused by sunburn shall not be considered serious unless the flesh is affected. Damage caused by doubles shall not be considered serious unless one of the halves is undeveloped, small or dry.

"Virtually uniform in size" shall mean, in the case of packed cherries, that the average size of cherries used in the fill shall not be smaller than would pack one row more in each direction than the cherries in the packed face; provided, further, that bunch faced or drop faced cherries shall not be considered packed. Cherries in cartons shall have the same size in each layer.

Markings. In addition to the markings required by section 9 of this act, all containers of cherries, when packed, bunch faced or drop faced, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety," and the net weight. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container they shall be labeled "mixed varieties."

Containers of cherries which are not packed, bunch faced or drop faced shall not be required to show any markings.

Containers of cherries which are loose, bunch faced or drop faced, may be marked with row sizes as herein defined, and when any container is so marked the average size of the cherries in the face, or exposed surface of the fruit, shall conform to the row size so marked; provided, further, that the average size of cherries used in the fill shall not be smaller than one row size below that marked on the container.

The number of "row size" shall be deemed to be that number of cherries of uniform size whose aggregate width will equal nine inches. The diameter of cherries for the various "row sizes" shall be as follows: For an "8 row size," one and one-eighth inches; for a "9 row size," one inch; for a "10 row size," nine-tenths of one inch; for an "11 row size," nine-elevenths of one inch; for a "12 row size," nine-twelfths of one inch, and for a "13 row size," nine-thirteenths of one inch.

Standard Containers for Packed Cherries. Packed, bunch faced or drop faced cherries shall be in standard containers numbers 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 19 or 23, established in section 11 of this act; provided, that standard containers, numbers 11 and 12, shall not be standard after January 1, 1929; provided, further, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height "irregular container." No standard containers are established for loose cherries which are not packed, bunch faced or drop faced. (Id. § 19.)

387t. Citrus Fruits.—Citrus fruits, when being packed or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer, or in bulk, shall conform to the following standard:

Standard for Citrus Fruits. Citrus fruits shall be mature, virtually free from marked evidence of freezing injury, free from rots, excepting brown rot, blue and green mold, and from serious damage caused by splits, cuts, bruises, stem or thorn punctures, or by drying at the stem or blossom end; and in the case of packed citrus fruits shall be virtually uniform in size; provided, that, with the exception of freezing injury, not more than ten per cent, by count, of the citrus fruits in any one container, or in any lot in bulk, may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause; provided, further, that brown rot, blue and green mold shall not be considered serious defects.

Oranges shall not be deemed mature under the provisions of this act unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization; provided, that the oranges have attained at least twenty-five per cent of yellow or orange color before picking; provided, however, that oranges which are substantially or at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed mature irrespective of analysis of the juice; provided, further, that no oranges may be accelerated in color unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization.

Grapefruit shall not be deemed mature under the provisions of this act unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of five parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization.

"Virtually free from marked evidence of freezing injury" means that not more than fifteen per cent, by count, of the citrus fruits in any one container, or in any lot in bulk, may show marked evidence of freezing injury, which is hereby defined as a water soaked appearance or evidence of previous water soaking, or the presence of crystals or crystalline deposit, on the two surface membranes of each of two or more segments, as shown on the separation of the segments one from another, of a section, not less than one inch or more than one and one-half inches in thickness, of the central portion of the fruit, obtained by cutting off a portion of each end—the evidence of freezing injury to show for the entire length but not necessarily the entire area of the surface membranes; or a drying or desiccation in twenty per cent or more of the exposed pulp as shown on a transverse cut through the center.

The percentage of marked evidence of freezing injury or other defects may be established by inspection of a representative sample, which shall consist of not less than one hundred fruits of the various sizes selected at random.

Damage caused by splits, cuts, bruises, or stem or thorn punctures, in any citrus fruit, shall not be considered serious if the injury is well healed and free from mold or decay.

Damage caused by drying at the stem or blossom end of any citrus fruit shall not be considered serious unless twenty per cent or more of the pulp shows a marked drying or desiccation.

Markings. In addition to the markings required by section 9 of this act, all containers of citrus fruits, when packed, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: The number and average diameter of citrus fruits in the container, and, in the case of oranges, the name of variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety" or "seedlings."

Containers of citrus fruits which are not packed shall not be required to show any markings.

Standard Containers. All packed oranges, grapefruit and tangerines shall be in standard containers numbers 26 or 27, and all packed lemons shall be in standard containers numbers 29, 29A, 30 or 30A, established in section 11 of this act; provided, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height "irregular size container." No standard containers are established for other species of citrus fruits or for loose citrus fruits which are not packed. (Id. § 20.)

387u. Fresh or Dried Dates.—Markings. In addition to the markings required in section 9 of this act, all containers and subcontainers of fresh or dried dates or date by-products shall bear upon them, in plain sight on the outside thereof, in the English language, the net weight, and, in letters not less than one-half of an inch in height, the name of the State or of the foreign country where the dates were produced, directly preceded by the words in like-sized type "grown in"; provided, that, in the case of any containers or subcontainers with contents of not more than three pounds net weight, this marking may be in letters not less than one-eighth of an inch in height.

Standard Containers. No standard containers are established by this act for dates. (Id. § 21.)

387v. Grapes—Districts.—For the purpose of this act the State shall be divided into districts as follows:

District 1. That part of the State south of the San Gorgonio pass in Riverside county and east of the Sierra Nevada range, comprising parts of the counties of Riverside and San Diego and all of Imperial county.

District 2. All of the State excepting the part included in district 1.

Standards for Grapes. Grapes, when being packed or placed in any container, or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer, shall conform to one of the following standards:

Standards for Group A. Fancy Grapes. Fancy grapes shall consist of bunches of well developed grapes of one variety which are uniformly well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not shattered, split, crushed, wet, soft, wilted or scarred; which are free from shot berries, raisining or raisined berries, sunburned or dried berries, waterberry, mildew, Almeria spot, mold, decay, and from damage caused by other disease, insects, discoloration, freezing, or other means.

Bunches shall not be straggly, or excessively small excepting that a sufficient number of small bunches shall be allowed to insure a properly packed container. Stems shall be free from mold and from damage caused by mildew.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of the grapes in any container, may be below the requirements of this grade; but not more than a total of two per cent, by weight, may be seriously damaged, and not more than one-fourth of this amount, or one-half of one per cent, may be affected by mold or decay.

Fancy Sawdust Packed Grapes. Fancy grapes when packed in sawdust, cork, or similar packing material, in addition to the specifications prescribed above for fancy grapes, shall comply with the following requirements:

The bunches of grapes shall be well matured, and may be loose but not excessively straggly, and shall be not less than six inches in length, measured from shoulder to tip, excepting the Almeria (Ohanez) variety, which shall have bunches not less than four inches in length and weighing not less than one-half pound each. The berries shall have a diameter of not less than five-eighths of an inch, measured through the widest portion of cross section, excepting the Almeria variety, which shall have berries with a diameter of not less than nine-sixteenths of an inch. The stems shall be mature and shall not be weak, dry or brittle.

The five per cent tolerance permitted above for fancy grapes also shall apply to fancy sawdust packed grapes, but total serious defects, including mold and decay, shall be limited to one-half of one per cent by weight. In addition, grapes of this grade when packed in sawdust, cork, or similar packing material, may have not to exceed ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container, and not more than five per cent, by weight, of the berries, which are below the prescribed sizes or weights.

Number 1-A Grapes. Number 1-A grapes shall consist of bunches of grapes of one variety which are well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not shattered, split, crushed, wet, soft, wilted, or badly scarred; which are free from immature shot berries, raisining or raisined berries, sunburned or dried berries, waterberry, mildew, mold, decay and from damage caused by other disease, insects, freezing or other means.

Bunches shall not be excessively straggly and stems shall be free from mold and from damage caused by mildew.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the grapes in any container may be below the requirements of this grade; but not more than a total of five per cent, by weight, may be seriously damaged, and not more than one-fifth of this amount, or one per cent, may be affected by mold or decay.

Grapes of varieties included in group A which have been placed in cold storage for a period of not less than thirty days, on a basis of storage in transit from the point of packing to interstate markets, and which, upon removal from storage, fail to meet the requirements of No. 1-A grapes only by reason of deterioration which has occurred after packing, shall not be required to show grade markings, provided that such grapes shall at least meet the requirements of unclassified grapes.

Unclassified Grapes, Packed in Sawdust, Cork or Similar Packing Material. All grapes packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, which fail to comply with the requirements for fancy sawdust packed grades as established above, shall be required to meet the specifications of No. 1-A grapes, and to be marked "unclassified" as hereafter required; provided, however, that the packer or owner of any grapes in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, which fail to meet the requirements of fancy sawdust packed grapes, or unclassified grapes in sawdust, only by reason of deterioration which has occurred after packing, shall not be held liable for violation of this provision on account of such deterioration.

Standards for Group B. No. 1-B Grapes. Number 1-B grapes shall consist of grapes which are fairly well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not split, crushed, or wet; which are free from immature shot berries, raisining or raisined berries, sunburned or dried berries, waterberry, redberry, mold or decay, and from damage caused by mildew or other disease, insects or other means.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper handling, not more than fifteen per cent, by weight, of the berries in any container may be raisining or raisined; provided, that not more than one-third of this amount, or five per cent, may be raisined. In addition, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the berries in the container, may be below the remaining requirements of this grade, but not more than a total of five per cent, by weight, may be seriously damaged, and not more than two-fifths of this amount, or two per cent, may be affected by mold or decay; but in no case shall more than fifteen per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container have spots of mold or decay affecting three or more contiguous berries.

Number 2 Grapes. Number 2 grapes shall consist of grapes which are mature, which are not detached from the capstems, split, crushed, or wet; which are free from raisined berries, sunburned or dried berries, waterberry, redberry, mold or decay, and from other serious damage.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper handling, not more than fifteen per cent, by weight, of the berries in any container may be raisined, and in addition not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the berries in the container may be below the remaining requirements of this grade, but not more than a total of five per cent, by weight, may be affected by mold or decay.

Unclassified Grapes. Unclassified grapes shall be mature and shall not include in excess of ten per cent, by weight, of berries affected by mold or decay in any one container; provided, that, in the case of varieties included in group A, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may be immature.

Any grapes which fail to meet the requirements for unclassified grapes, because of immaturity, mold or decay, may be disposed of only as provided in sections 13 and 14 of this act, excepting that nothing in this act shall prevent a grower of grapes from selling part or all of his crop, which may fail to meet the requirements of unclassified grapes, to a purchaser for the sole and express purpose of being used by such purchaser for the manufacture of a by-product in the State of California; provided, that each container of such grapes shall be plainly and conspicuously marked with the name and address of the grower, and, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the words "by-product grapes"; provided, further, that each such sale shall be made only under written permit of an enforcing officer of this act, who may require from the grower and/or purchaser of such grapes such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used only as herein provided.

General Requirements. For the purpose of the standards for grapes, and their respective tolerances, established above, the provisions shall apply to the bunch as the unit in the case of:

1. Maturity of group A varieties.
2. Color in fancy, fancy sawdust pack, No. 1-A and unclassified sawdust pack standards.
3. Bunches which fail to meet requirements for size or compactness (straggly or excessively straggly) in fancy, fancy sawdust pack, No. 1-A and unclassified sawdust pack standards.
4. Mixed varieties (except in No. 1-B, No. 2 or unclassified grapes when marked "mixed varieties" or with color of grapes).
5. Stems which are immature, weak, dry or brittle in fancy sawdust pack.
6. Stems which are not free from mold and damage caused by mildew in fancy, fancy sawdust pack, No. 1-A and unclassified sawdust pack.
7. Bunches damaged by discoloration in fancy and fancy sawdust pack standards.
8. Bunches having spots of mold affecting three or more contiguous berries in No. 1-B standard.

The maturity of group B varieties shall apply to the entire contents of any container, as hereinafter stated, and color requirements in No. 1-B standard apply to the entire contents of each container.

In regard to all other requirements and tolerances the individual grape berry shall be the unit considered.

For the purpose of this section, although the tolerances specified for the various standards necessarily are placed on a package basis, not more than one-fourth of the packages in any lot may be permitted to exceed the tolerance established by not more than one-half of the amount allowed; provided, that the entire lot shall average within the tolerance established; provided, further, that no container shall have more mold or decay than the amount specified in the tolerance established.

No provision of this section shall be construed to prevent placing any varieties included in group A under the standards established for group B; provided, all containers are properly marked with the grade designations as hereafter required, nor to prevent placing any varieties included in group B under the standards established for group A.

Definitions. When used in this section the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows:

"Well matured," in the standard for fancy grapes packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, means that each bunch of grapes shall test not less than seventeen per cent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; provided, that the variety Malaga shall test not less than twenty per cent.

"Mature" stems means that they shall be firm and pliable but not limp or flabby, generally of a yellowish green or straw color, or having brownish, woody seals at the cut ends.

"Mature," in the standards for grapes shall mean that each bunch of the varieties classified above in group A shall test not less than seventeen per cent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; provided, that the varieties Malaga and Thompson seedless shall test not less than eighteen per cent when produced in any section excepting district one; provided, further, that the varieties Emperor, Gros Colman (Bleu Grau, Drodelabi, Fresno Beauty, Servian Blue), Pierce Isabella (Pierce, Isabella Regia, California Concord), Olivette Blanche, Ladyfinger, Rish Baba, Khalili, Persian 23 (Dizmar) and Cornichon shall test not less than sixteen per cent; provided, further, that in the case of varieties included in group B "mature" shall mean that the average or composite test of all the grapes in any container shall be not less than seventeen per cent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; provided, that white varieties of the Muscat type shall test not less than eighteen per cent; provided, further, that the variety Burger shall test not less than sixteen per cent.

"Uniformly well colored" in standards for grapes, means in the case of:

"Black varieties" that each bunch shall have not less than ninety-five per cent, by count, of berries showing good characteristic color; excepting that in order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may have not less than eighty per cent, by count, of berries showing good characteristic color.

"Red varieties" that each bunch shall have not less than seventy-five per cent, by count, of well colored berries; excepting that in order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may have not less than sixty per cent of well colored berries. Red grape berries shall be considered well colored when at last sixty per cent of the surface shows good characteristic color. Light or cherry red, dark red and purple are considered good characteristic color for the Emperor variety.

"White varieties" that each bunch shall have not less than twenty-five per cent, by count, of berries showing straw or amber color; excepting that in order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may be below this requirement. No straw or amber color shall be required for Almeria (Ohanez) and Verdal.

"Well colored" in standards for grapes, means in the case of:

"Black varieties" that each bunch shall have not less than seventy-five per cent, by count, of berries showing characteristic color; excepting that in order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may have not less than fifty per cent, by count, of berries showing characteristic color. Reddish purple to black color shall be considered characteristic for Cornichon.

"Red varieties" that each bunch shall have not less than sixty per cent, by count, of well colored berries; excepting that in order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than ten per cent, by weight, of the bunches in any container may be below this requirement.

"White varieties" no requirements for "well colored."

"Fairly well colored" in standards for grapes, means in the case of:

"Black varieties" that seventy-five per cent of the grapes in any container shall show color characteristic of the variety when mature. Reddish purple to black color shall be considered as characteristic for Mission, Aramon, Rose of Peru, Black Prince, Black Hamburg, Grenache, and Malvoise.

"Red varieties" that sixty per cent of the grapes in any container shall have at least half of the surface of the berries showing characteristic color.

"White varieties" no requirements for "fairly well colored."

"One variety" means grapes having the same varietal characteristics.

"Wet" means moisture from crushing, rain, dew or other causes.

"Raisining berries" means grape berries in some stage of the normal curing process, which have developed to some extent the characteristic shriveled or wrinkled appearance of a raisin, but which contain sufficient juice to drop from the berry under ordinary pressure between thumb and finger. Change of color and flavor are, in some cases, additional characteristic of raisining berries.

While wilting is prerequisite to the raisining process, berries which merely are wilted without shriveling, wrinkling, or change of color, are not considered as raisining.

"Raisined berries" means grape berries which are fully cured, resembling raisins, which do not contain sufficient juice to drop from the berry under ordinary pressure between thumb and finger.

"Sunburned or dried grapes" mean grapes which show complete drying out, from any cause, of part or all of any individual berries.

"Waterberry" means a disease characterized by a watery, soft or flabby condition of the berries. Such affected berries are low in sugar content, have tender skins and are very easily crushed.

"Redberry" means a condition closely resembling waterberry, generally found in black varieties. Such grapes show a red or brownish red color, in addition to the general characteristics of waterberry.

"Damage caused by mildew" means damage causing discoloration of the berries which seriously affects the appearance of a lot.

"Damage caused by discoloration" means that more than fifteen per cent, by count, of the berries on any bunch, show a dark brown discoloration. Sunkissed berries of an amber or light brown color shall not be considered as damaged.

"Seriously damaged" includes grapes which are split, crushed, wet, completely dried, or affected with redberry, waterberry, mold or decay.

Markings. Each container of grapes, packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, which meet the requirements of fancy sawdust packed grapes, as established above, may be marked "fancy" or "fancy sawdust packed," but shall bear no other term designating quality or grade, excepting as hereafter provided.

Any container of grapes, packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, which meet the requirements of unclassified grapes packed in such material, shall be plainly and conspicuously marked, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the word "unclassified," and shall bear no other term designating quality or grade.

Any container of grapes, excepting those packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material, may be marked with any proper designation of quality or grade; provided, that each container of grapes of a variety included in group A, established above, which fail to meet the requirements of the standard for No. 1-A grapes, established above, shall be plainly and conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the proper standard designation as "No. 1-B" or "No. 2," as the case may be, but shall bear no other term designating quality or grade, excepting as hereafter provided.

Each container of grapes which meet the requirements for unclassified grapes, but which fail to meet the requirements for No. 2 grapes, established above, shall be plainly and conspicuously marked, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the word "unclassified," and shall bear no other term designating quality or grade.

In lieu of the standard grade markings required above, any container of grapes may be marked with the name for the same grade established in United States standards for grapes promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture and approved by the Director of Agriculture of the State of California.

In addition to the markings required above, and those required by section 9 of this act, all containers of grapes shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Net weight and name of the variety, provided that the words "variety unknown," "mixed varieties" or the color of the grapes may be marked in lieu of the name of the variety.

Standard Containers. Grapes packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material shall be in standard containers numbers 24, 25, 38 or 39, and all other grapes shall be in standard containers numbers 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 20, 21, 22 or 23 established in section 11 of this act; provided, that containers numbers 20, 21, 22 and 23 shall be standard for grapes only when used without cleats, or when used with a cleat or cleats on each end not to exceed a total height of eleven-sixteenths of an inch; provided, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height "irregular containers"; provided, further, that containers numbers 20, 22 and 24 shall be standard only until July 1, 1929. (Id. § 22.)

387w. Peaches.—Fresh peaches, when being packed, or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer, shall conform to the following standard:

Standard for Fresh Peaches. Fresh peaches shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from unhealed cuts or skin breaks, unhealed growth cracks, serious bruises, insect injury, split pits which are open at the stem end, mold, brown rot, decay and from serious damage caused by scab, rust, blight, or other diseases, hail or other means, and in the case of packed peaches shall be virtually uniform in size; provided, that not more than ten per cent, by count, of the peaches in any one container may be below these requirements, but not to exceed on-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Damage caused by scab or rust on any peach shall not be considered serious unless the spots cover an aggregate area in more than one-half inch in diameter, or show cracks. Damage caused by blight on any peach shall not be considered serious unless the spots total more than ten in number, or cover an aggregate area of more than one-half inch in diameter, or cause gum to exude. Damage caused by hail in any peach shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent by weight of the fruit. Superficial thrip marks which do not cover more than five per cent of the surface of any peach shall not be considered as insect injury.

"Virtually uniform in size" shall mean, in the case of packed peaches, a variation of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross-section, between the fruits in any one container. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides.

Markings. In addition to the markings required by section 9 of this act, all containers of fresh peaches, when packed, shall bear upon them in plain sight and plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; the net weight, and the approximate number of fruits in the container or subcontainer, which number shall be within four of the true count; provided, that, in lieu of the approximate number of fruits, the numerical description of pack may be used. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container they shall be labeled "mixed varieties."

Containers in which the fruit in the top layer only is placed in regular compact arrangement shall be labeled "face and fill" in lieu of the approximate number of fruits and net weight.

Containers of fresh peaches which are not packed shall not be required to show any markings.

Standard Containers for Packed Peaches. Packed fresh peaches shall be in standard containers numbers 1, 5, 6, 7, 14, 15, 16, 17 or 23, established in section 11 of this act; provided, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "irregular container." No standard containers are established for loose fresh peaches which are not packed. (Id. § 23.)

387x. Pears.—Fresh pears, when being packed, or after packing, or when delivered for shipment, loaded, shipped, or being transported, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer, shall conform to the following standard:

Standard for Fresh Pears. Fresh pears shall be mature but not overripe, shall be free from cuts or skin breaks, serious bruises, San Jose scale, codlin moth larvæ, mold, decay, and from serious damage caused by scab, black end or other diseases, limb rubs, frost, hail, codlin moth larvæ or other insects, and in the case of packed pears shall be virtually uniform in size; provided, that not more than ten per cent, by count, of the pears in any one container may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, or five per cent, shall be allowed for any one cause.

Damage caused by scab or black end in any pear shall not be considered serious unless the spots cover an aggregate area of more than one-half inch in diameter. Damage caused in any pear by other diseases, limb rubs, frost or hail shall not be considered serious unless it causes a waste of ten per cent by weight of the fruit. Damage to any pear caused by thrip mark, blister mite or other superficial blemishes due to insects shall not be considered serious unless it affects ten per cent of the surface of the fruit. Damage caused to any pear by superficial well healed codlin moth "stings" shall not be considered serious, but any unhealed "stings" or holes caused by codlin moth larvæ shall be considered serious.

"Virtually uniform in size" shall mean, in the case of packed pears, a variation of not more than one-half of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of cross section, between the fruits in any one container. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides.

Markings. The milk or cream purchased from each person shall be represented by a composite sample taken from the entire delivery of all the several lots of milk or cream bought from such person except when milk is frozen or partly churned, and shall cover a period of not more than eleven days. A sample consisting of not less than seventeen cubic centimeters of milk shall be taken each day, except when milk is frozen or partly churned, from the milk or cream furnished by each such person, and an approved preservative shall be added to the milk or cream, and each composite sample shall be held in an approved air-tight bottle, such bottle being plainly labeled to show the name or number of the person whose milk or cream the composite sample represents. All such composite samples shall cover the same period of time, except where the number of samples taken shall exceed two hundred, in which case they may be taken and tested in two series. The milk to be sampled shall be placed in an approved mixing tank and shall be run through a fine-mesh strainer before any sample shall be taken. The composite samples shall be kept in a cool place, away from strong light. The test or tests shall be made within seventy-two hours, Sundays and holidays excepted, after the last sample shall have been added to the composite sample, and a report shall be mailed to the Dairy and Food Commissioner on blanks furnished at cost by said commissioner. After such samples shall have been tested their residues shall be held intact and in condition suitable to test on the premises where they are tested for a further period of not less than seven days, in order to make possible a check test. 66h. Composite Samples to be Divided Into Two Parts for Purposes of Testing.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying milk or cream from producers to be paid for on the basis of the percentage of butter fat contained therein, and for that purpose taking samples therefrom to form a composite sample to be tested every eleven days to determine its value on such basis, shall, at the request of the producer, divide each such composite sample into two parts and tender the same to the producer or his authorized agent before any test shall be made of such composite sample. The producer or his authorized agent shall have his choice of either sample so divided. The sample so selected shall be sealed by the person dividing the sample in the presence of both parties concerned. Such producer shall be permitted to send such sealed sample to the Dairy and Food Commissioner. Said commissioner shall cause such sample to be tested for the per centum of butter fat and shall send a report of such test to the producer from whom it was received within ten days or as soon thereafter as possible. The producer or producers selling milk or cream to any person, firm or corporation may at any time employ a licensed tester to take composite samples, such samples to cover the same period of time as those taken by the dealer or his agents. 49. Licensed Testers Required.—Every person, firm or corporation or association, or other factory or person receiving, buying and paying for milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein shall be required to procure an annual permit for the operation of such cream buying station or factory, shall pay the fee herein provided for such permit and shall have in its employ a person who holds a permit to test cream, who shall supervise and be responsible for the operation of the Babcock test of milk and cream. The tester's permit shall be issued to such person, by the Department of Agriculture or its secretary when such person shall have passed a satisfactory examination in person and shall have proved by actual demonstration before an inspector or authorized agent of the Department of Agriculture that he is competent and qualified to conduct the Babcock test for butter fat. Every person, firm, corporation or association employing a field representative, supervisor or one charged with the inspection, operation or management of cream buying agencies before its agent, servant, or employee assumes to operate a station or business wherein milk or cream is bought, paid for, or tested, shall procure a tester's permit for its agents, servant or employee and shall pay the annual fee and the renewal fee, as hereinafter provided, and such tester, the agent, employee or servant or another shall, before such permit is granted qualify in the manner hereinbefore provided for testers and in such other manner as may be reasonably required by the Department of Agriculture. No permit as herein required shall be issued except upon written application on forms furnished by the Department of Agriculture for that purpose which applications shall be signed by applicant. Annual permits issued to persons other than those actually doing milk and cream buying on their own account shall be issued only upon written application signed by both principal and agent. One of the written conditions set forth in all applications for such permits shall be that neither the independent cream buyer nor principal nor agent, as the case may be, will indulge in any unfair business practices, fraudulent or illegal act; and that true and accurate tests of milk, or cream tested in the ordinary course of business will be made at all times. Every permit shall be valid for one year after its issue and shall not be transferable. The fee for each annual permit (which includes tester's permit, when such tester is the agent, employee or servant of another) and each annual renewal thereof shall be two ($2.00) dollars and shall be paid to the Department of Agriculture or its authorized agent before any such permit or any renewal thereof shall be issued. The testing of each lot of milk or cream by any person, firm, corporation, association or other factory, its employees, agents or servants, without the annual permit herein required exhibited in plain sight of patrons of the place where milk or cream is tested shall constitute a separate offense. The absence of such annual permit in the place of business of the person, firm, or corporation, as aforesaid, or the testing of milk or cream by such person, firm or corporation at any time so that it appears to contain more or less butter fat than such milk or cream in fact does contain, or any failure or neglect on the part of the person, firm or corporation, its agent, servant or employee to refuse to correct for under-payment or to make demand for refund, for over-payment on account of errors made in the testing of milk or cream, as the case may be, shall be prima facie evidence of the intent of the person, firm or corporation to whom annual permit shall have been granted, to violate the provisions of this act: Provided, that any person, holding a permit to test milk or cream, as aforesaid, may for valid reasons appoint a substitute for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, subject to the approval of the Department of Agriculture. No new cream buying station or new location of a station for the operation of which permit shall have been granted shall be open for the purchase of butter fat by any person, firm, corporation or association except under a new annual permit issued by the Department of Agriculture until such new station or location shall have been inspected by the Department of Agriculture and until such station and equipment shall have been approved by an authorized representative of such department. No person, firm, corporation or association shall buy or offer to buy cream or butter fat without displaying the price being offered or to be paid for the cream or butter fat. Such price shall be posted and displayed continuously during the business hours of such buying agent and in letters and figures not less than two inches in height, in such manner or place so that the price posted shall be plainly visible from the street in front of the building or place in which such purchase is made; and it shall be deemed a violation hereof if there be a failure on the part of such person, firm, corporation or association, its agent, servant or employee, either to post such prices or to buy cream or butter fat at a price different from that which is posted. All such persons, firms, corporations or associations, their agents, servants, or employees shall keep a record in their respective cream stations of the time and date on or at which changes in prices are made and posted, together with a plain and legible record of the tests made of each lot of cream or milk purchased or sold, which record shall be open for public inspection at all times. (Id. § 7449.)

50. Fraud in Testing Milk or Cream.—No person, firm, corporation, association or other factory or person operating a cream buying station for the purpose of receiving or buying milk or cream by weight or test; or persons in the employment of such person, firm, corporation, association or other factory operating such cream buying station shall fraudulently manipulate the weights of milk or cream or take unfair samples thereof or fraudulently manipulate such samples in any way. No person, firm, corporation, association or other factory or person or employee, buying and paying for milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein shall under-read, over-read or otherwise fraudulently manipulate the Babcock test used for determining the percentage of fat in milk or cream or falsify the record thereof or read the tests at any temperature except between 135 degrees and 140 degrees Fahrenheit, or pay on the basis of any measurement of weight which is other than seventeen and six-tenths (17.6) cubic centimeters for milk and nine (9) grams for cream. In all tests made under the provisions of this section the cream shall be weighed into the test bottles. (Id. § 7450.)

53. Violation—Penalty.—Any person, firm, association, corporation, tester, independent cream buyer or owner of any cream station, their agents, servants or employees, violating any of the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding three months. (Id. § 7453.)

difference, if any, the actual cost of transportation from the locality of such purchase to the locality of manufacture or the locality of the sale of such milk, cream or butter fat, shall be deemed guilty of unfair discrimination, which is hereby prohibited and declared to be unlawful, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or both, for the first offense, and for the second and each subsequent offense not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both: Provided, that it shall not be unfair discrimination for any person, firm, co-partnership, association or corporation to pay in any section, locality, community, city or village of this State, a price equal to that actually paid on the same day by any bona fide competitor in such place for milk, cream or butter fat of the same kind and grade, if such price is paid in a good faith effort to meet such competition, and the burden of proving such facts shall be upon the defendant. (L. 1927, c. 3.)

The fact that any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions hereof has heretofore complied with requirements similar to or identical with those of this section, whether the same are established by law or by the regulations of any branch or department of the State government, shall not exempt him, them or it from again registering and otherwise complying with the provisions of this section after it shall have become effective. Reports.—The Department of Finance and Taxation shall make a complete and itemized report to the Comptroller on or before the twenty-fifth day of each month covering receipts and expenditures under the provisions of this act during preceding month, and the Commissioner of Finance and Taxation shall at the same time remit to the Comptroller covering receipts less authorized expenditures. (P. A. 1927, c. 2, § 8.)

345i. Suspension and Revocation of License.—The license to sell tobacco and tobacco products of anyone who shall be convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, and who shall thereafter be convicted of a violation committed after the first conviction, and who shall a third time be convicted for a violation committed after the second conviction, shall automatically be suspended for a period of six months, and if such license should expire during that period, he shall be ineligible to procure another license until after the expiration of six months from date of such third violation. It shall not be necessary upon such third conviction for the court or magistrate to render a decree of suspension but such suspension shall take effect automatically; nor shall the person so convicted have the right to procure a license in the name of another during such six months period. It shall be the duty of the court or magistrate, upon every conviction under this act, to make a written report thereof to the county court clerk, and the county court clerk shall preserve a record of such convictions, and upon a third conviction shall be bound to take whatever steps may be necessary or proper to enforce such suspension, including process of injunction in any court of competent jurisdiction, for which purpose he shall be entitled to the legal services of the district attorney-general and of the county attorney if there be one; or the Commissioner of Finance and Taxation upon the part of the State may institute such proceedings in any proper court.
